March 17, 1937
[S. 936]
[Public, No. 21]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That on and after July 1, 1937, all sales of goods in the District of Columbia shall be made under and in accordance with the following provisions of law:

District of Columbia Uniform Sales Act.
Effective date.

PART I

FORMATION OF THE CONTRACT

SECTION 1. CONTRACTS TO SELL AND SALES.—(1) A contract to sell goods is a contract whereby the seller agrees to transfer the property in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the "price."

(2) A sale of goods is an agreement whereby the seller transfers the property in goods to the buyer for a consideration called the "price."

(3) A contract to sell or a sale may be absolute or conditional.

Formation of the contract.
Contracts to sell and sales.

Term defined.

Types.

Between one part owner and another.

Capacity.

Liability for necessities.

"Necessaries" defined.

Formalities of the contract.

Form of contract or sale.

Statute of frauds.

Scope.

Acceptance of goods.

Subject matter of contract.

Existing and future goods.

Undivided shares.

Fungible goods.

(4) There may be a contract to sell or a sale between one part owner and another.

SEC. 2. CAPACITY—LIABILITIES FOR NECESSARIES.—Capacity to buy and sell is regulated by the general law concerning capacity to contract, and to transfer and acquire property.

Where necessities are sold and delivered to an infant, or to a person who by reason of mental incapacity or drunkenness is incompetent to contract, he must pay a reasonable price therefor.

"Necessaries" in this section means goods suitable to the condition in life of such infant or other person, and to his actual requirements at the time of delivery.

FORMALITIES OF THE CONTRACT

SEC. 3. FORM OF CONTRACT OR SALE.—Subject to the provisions of this Act and of any statute in that behalf, a contract to sell or a sale may be made in writing (either with or without seal), or by word of mouth, or partly in writing and partly by word of mouth or may be inferred from the conduct of the parties.

SEC. 4. STATUTE OF FRAUDS.—(1) A contract to sell or a sale of any goods or choses in action of the value of $500 or upwards shall not be enforceable by action unless the buyer shall accept part of the goods or choses in action so contracted to be sold or sold, and actually receive the same, or give something in earnest to bind the contract, or in part payment, or unless some note or memorandum in writing of the contract or sale be signed by the party to be charged or his agent in that behalf.

(2) The provisions of this section apply to every such contract or sale, notwithstanding that the goods may be intended to be delivered at some future time or may not at the time of such contract or sale be actually made, procured, or provided, or fit or ready for delivery, or some act may be requisite for the making or completing thereof, or rendering the same fit for delivery; but if the goods are to be manufactured by the seller especially for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller's business, the provisions of this section shall not apply.

(3) There is an acceptance of goods within the meaning of this section when the buyer, either before or after delivery of the goods, expresses by words or conduct his assent to becoming the owner of those specific goods.

SUBJECT MATTER OF CONTRACT

SEC. 5. EXISTING AND FUTURE GOODS.—(1) The goods which form the subject of a contract to sell may be either existing goods, owned or possessed by the seller, or goods to be manufactured or acquired by the seller after the making of the contract to sell, in this Act called future goods.

(2) There may be a contract to sell goods, the acquisition of which by the seller depends upon a contingency which may or may not happen.

(3) Where the parties purport to effect a present sale of future goods, the agreement operates as a contract to sell the goods.

SEC. 6. UNDIVIDED SHARES.—(1) There may be a contract to sell or a sale of an undivided share of goods. If the parties intend to effect a present sale, the buyer, by force of the agreement, becomes an owner in common with the owner or owners of the remaining shares.

(2) In the case of fungible goods, there may be a sale of an undivided share of a specific mass, though the seller purports to sell and the buyer to buy a definite number, weight, or measure of the goods in the mass, and though the number, weight, or measure of the goods in the mass is undetermined. By such a sale the buyer becomes owner in common of such a share of the mass as the number, weight, or measure bought bears to the number, weight, or measure of the mass. If the mass contains less than the number, weight, or measure bought, the buyer becomes the owner of the whole mass and the seller is bound to make good the deficiency from similar goods unless a contrary intent appears.

SEC. 7. DESTRUCTION OF GOODS SOLD.—(1) Where the parties purport to sell specific goods, and the goods without the knowledge of the seller have wholly perished at the time when the agreement is made, the agreement is void.

Destruction of goods sold.

(2) Where the parties purport to sell specific goods, and the goods without the knowledge of the seller have perished in part or have wholly or in a material part so deteriorated in quality as to be substantially changed in character, the buyer may at his option treat the sale—

(a) As avoided; or

(b) As transferring the property in all of the existing goods or in so much thereof as have not deteriorated, and as binding the buyer to pay the full agreed price if the sale was indivisible, or to pay the agreed price for the goods in which the property passes if the sale was divisible<sup>1</sup>.

SEC. 8. DESTRUCTION OF GOODS CONTRACTED TO BE SOLD.—(1) Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, and subsequently, but before the risk passes to the buyer, without any fault on the part of the seller or the buyer, the goods wholly perish, the contract is thereby voided.

Destruction of goods contracted to be sold.

(2) Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, and subsequently, but before the risk passes to the buyer, without any fault of the seller or the buyer, part of the goods perish or the whole or a material part of the goods so deteriorate in quality as to be substantially changed in character, the buyer may at his option treat the contract—

(a) As avoided; or

(b) As binding the seller to transfer the property in all of the existing goods or in so much thereof as have not deteriorated, and as binding the buyer to pay the full agreed price if the contract was indivisible, or to pay the agreed price for so much of the goods as the seller, by the buyer's option, is bound to transfer if the contract was divisible.

THE PRICE

The price.

SEC. 9. DEFINITION AND ASCERTAINMENT OF PRICE.—(1) The price may be fixed by the contract, or may be left to be fixed in such manner as may be agreed, or it may be determined by the course of dealing between the parties.

Definition and ascertainment.

(2) The price may be made payable in any personal property.

Payment in personal property.
Transfer of interest in real estate.

(3) Where transferring or promising to transfer any interest in real estate constitutes the whole or part of the consideration for transferring or for promising to transfer the property in goods, this Act shall not apply.

(4) Where the price is not determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the buyer must pay a reasonable price. What is a reasonable price is a question of fact dependent on the circumstances of each particular case.

If price is not determined.

Sale at a valuation.

SEC. 10. SALE AT A VALUATION.—(1) Where there is a contract to sell or a sale of goods at a price or on terms to be fixed by a third person, and such third person without fault of the seller or the buyer cannot or does not fix the price or terms, the contract or the sale is thereby avoided; but if the goods or any part thereof have been delivered to and appropriated by the buyer he must pay a reasonable price therefor.

Where third person prevented from fixing price, etc.

(2) Where such third person is prevented from fixing the price or terms by fault of the seller or the buyer, the party not in fault may have such remedies against the party in fault as are allowed by parts IV and V of this Act.

Post, pp. 41, 44.

Conditions and warranties.

CONDITIONS AND WARRANTIES

Effect of.

SEC. 11. EFFECT OF CONDITIONS.—(1) Where the obligation of either party to a contract to sell or a sale is subject to any condition which is not performed, such party may refuse to proceed with the contract or sale or he may waive performance of the condition. If the other party has promised that the condition should happen or be performed, such first-mentioned party may also treat the nonperformance of the condition as a breach of warranty.

(2) Where the property in the goods has not passed, the buyer may treat the fulfillment by the seller of his obligations to furnish goods as described and as warranted expressly or by implication in the contract to sell as a condition of the obligation of the buyer to perform his promise to accept and pay for the goods.

Express warranty defined.

SEC. 12. DEFINITION OF EXPRESS WARRANTY.—Any affirmation of fact or any promise by the seller relating to the goods is an express warranty if the natural tendency of such affirmation or promise is to induce the buyer to purchase the goods, and if the buyer purchases the goods relying thereon. No affirmation of the value of the goods, nor any statement purporting to be a statement of the seller's opinion only shall be construed as a warranty.

Implied warranties of title.

SEC. 13. IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF TITLE.—In a contract to sell or a sale, unless a contrary intention appears, there is—

(1) An implied warranty on the part of the seller that in case of a sale he has a right to sell the goods, and that in case of a contract to sell he will have a right to sell the goods at the time when the property is to pass;

(2) An implied warranty that the buyer shall have and enjoy quiet possession of the goods as against any lawful claims existing at the time of the sale;

(3) An implied warranty that the goods shall be free at the time of the sale from any charge or encumbrance in favor of any third person, not declared or known to the buyer before or at the time when the contract or sale is made.

(4) This section shall not, however, be held to render liable a sheriff, auctioneer, mortgagee, or other person professing to sell by virtue of authority in fact or law, goods in which a third person has a legal or equitable interest.

Implied warranty in sale by description.

SEC. 14. IMPLIED WARRANTY IN SALE BY DESCRIPTION.—Where there is a contract to sell or a sale of goods by description, there is an implied warranty that the goods shall correspond with the description and if the contract or sale be by sample, as well as by description, it is not sufficient that the bulk of the goods corresponds with the sample if the goods do not also correspond with the description.

Implied warranties of quality.

SEC. 15. IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF QUALITY.—Subject to the provisions of this act and of any statute in that behalf, there is no implied warranty or condition as to the quality or fitness for any particular purpose of goods supplied under a contract to sell or a sale, except as follows:

(1) Where the buyer, expressly or by implication, makes known to the seller the particular purpose for which the goods are required, and it appears that the buyer relies on the seller's skill or judgment (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not), there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be reasonably fit for such purpose.

(2) Where the goods are bought by description from a seller who deals in goods of that description (whether he be the grower or manufacturer or not), there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be merchantable quality.

(3) If the buyer has examined the goods, there is no implied warranty as regards defects which such examination ought to have revealed.

(4) In the case of a contract to sell or a sale of a specified article under its patent or other trade name, there is no implied warranty as to its fitness for any particular purpose.

(5) An implied warranty or condition as to the quality or fitness for a particular purpose may be annexed by the usage of trade.

(6) An express warranty or condition does not negative a warranty or condition implied under this Act unless inconsistent therewith.

SALE BY SAMPLE

Sale by sample.

Implied warranties.

SEC. 16. IMPLIED WARRANTIES IN SALE BY SAMPLE.—In the case of a contract to sell or a sale by sample—

(a) There is an implied warranty that the bulk shall correspond with the sample in quality.

(b) There is an implied warranty that the buyer shall have a reasonable opportunity of comparing the bulk with the sample, except so far as otherwise provided in section 47 (3).

(c) If the seller is a dealer in goods of that kind, there is an implied warranty that the goods shall be free from any defect rendering them unmerchantable which would not be apparent on reasonable examination of the sample.

PART II

Part II.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY AS BETWEEN SELLER AND BUYER

SEC. 17. NO PROPERTY PASSES UNTIL GOODS ARE ASCERTAINED.—Where there is a contract to sell unascertained goods no property in the goods is transferred to the buyer unless and until the goods are ascertained, but property in an undivided share of ascertained goods may be transferred as provided in section 6.

Transfer of property as between seller and buyer.

No property passes until goods are ascertained.

SEC. 18. PROPERTY IN SPECIFIC GOODS PASSES WHEN PARTIES SO INTEND.—(1) Where there is a contract to sell specific or ascertained goods, the property in them is transferred to the buyer at such time as the parties to the contract intend it to be transferred.

Property in specific goods passes when parties so intend.

(2) For the purpose of ascertaining the intention of the parties, regard shall be had to the terms of the contract, the conduct of the parties, usages of trade, and the circumstances of the case.

SEC. 19. RULES FOR ASCERTAINING INTENTION.—Unless a different intention appears, the following are rules for ascertaining the intention of the parties as to the time at which the property in the goods is to pass to the buyer:

Rules for ascertaining intention.

Rule 1. Where there is an unconditional contract to sell specific goods, in a deliverable state, the property in the goods passes to the buyer when the contract is made and it is immaterial whether the time of payment, or the time of delivery, or both, be postponed.

Rule 2. Where there is a contract to sell specific goods and the seller is bound to do something to the goods, for the purpose of putting them into a deliverable state, the property does not pass until such thing is done.

Rule 3. (1) When goods are delivered to the buyer "on sale or return", or on other terms indicating an intention to make a present sale, but to give the buyer an option to return the goods instead of paying the price, the property passes to the buyer on delivery, but he may revert the property in the seller by returning or tendering the goods within the time fixed in the contract, or, if no time has been fixed, within a reasonable time.

(2) When goods are delivered to the buyer on approval or on trial or on satisfaction, or other similar terms, the property therein passes to the buyer—

(a) When he signifies his approval or acceptance to the seller or does any other act adopting the transaction;

(b) If he does not signify his approval or acceptance to the seller, but retains the goods without giving notice of rejection, then if a time has been fixed for the return of the goods, on the expiration of such time, and, if no time has been fixed, on the expiration of a reasonable time. What is a reasonable time is a question of fact.

Rule 4. (1) Where there is a contract to sell unascertained or future goods by description, and goods of that description and in a deliverable state are unconditionally appropriated to the contract, either by the seller with the assent of the buyer, or by the buyer with the assent of the seller, the property in the goods thereupon passes to the buyer. Such assent may be expressed or implied, and may be given either before or after the appropriation is made.

(2) Where, in pursuance of a contract to sell, the seller delivers the goods to the buyer, or to a carrier or other bailee (whether named by the buyer or not) for the purpose of transmission to or holding for the buyer, he is presumed to have unconditionally appropriated the goods to the contract, except in the cases provided for in the next rule and in section 20. This presumption is applicable, although by the terms of the contract, the buyer is to pay the price before receiving delivery of the goods, and the goods are marked with the words "collect on delivery" or their equivalents.

Rule 5. If the contract to sell requires the seller to deliver the goods to the buyer, or at a particular place, or to pay the freight or cost of transportation to the buyer, or to a particular place, the property does not pass until the goods have been delivered to the buyer or reached the place agreed upon.

Reservation of right of possession or property when goods are shipped.

SEC. 20. RESERVATION OF RIGHT OF POSSESSION OR PROPERTY WHEN GOODS ARE SHIPPED. (1) Where there is a contract to sell specific goods, or where goods are subsequently appropriated to the contract, the seller may, by the terms of the contract or appropriation, reserve the right of possession or property in the goods until certain conditions have been fulfilled. The right of possession or property may be thus reserved notwithstanding the delivery of the goods to the buyer or to a carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer.

(2) Where goods are shipped, and by the bill of lading the goods are deliverable to the seller or his agent, or to the order of the seller or of his agent, the seller thereby reserves the property in the goods. But if, except for the form of the bill of lading, the property would have passed to the buyer on shipment of the goods, the seller's property in the goods shall be deemed to be only for the purpose of securing performance by the buyer of his obligations under the contract.

(3) Where goods are shipped, and by the bill of lading the goods are deliverable to the order of the buyer or of his agent, but possession of the bill of lading is retained by the seller or his agent, the seller thereby reserves a right to the possession of the goods as against the buyer.

(4) Where the seller of goods draws on the buyer for the price and transmits the bill of exchange and bill of lading together to the buyer to secure acceptance or payment of the bill of exchange, the buyer is bound to return the bill of lading if he does not honor the bill of exchange, and if he wrongfully retains the bill of lading he acquires no added right thereby. If, however, the bill of lading provides that the goods are deliverable to the buyer or to the order of the buyer, or is endorsed in blank, or to the buyer by the consignee named therein, one who purchases in good faith, for value, the bill of lading, or goods from the buyer will obtain the property in the goods, although the bill of exchange has not been honored, provided that such purchaser has received delivery of the bill of lading endorsed by the consignee named therein, or of the goods, without notice of the facts, making the transfer wrongful.

SEC. 21. SALE BY AUCTION.—In the case of a sale by auction—

Sale by auction.

(1) Where goods are put up for sale by auction in lots, each lot is the subject of a separate contract of sale.

(2) A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer announces its completion by the fall of the hammer, or in other customary manner. Until such announcement is made, any bidder may retract his bid; and the auctioneer may withdraw the goods from sale unless the auction has been announced to be without reserve.

(3) A right to bid may be reserved expressly by or on behalf of the seller.

(4) Where notice has not been given that a sale by auction is subject to a right to bid on behalf of the seller, it shall not be lawful for the seller to bid himself or to employ or induce any person to bid at such sale on his behalf, or for the auctioneer to employ or induce any person to bid at such sale on behalf of the seller or knowingly to take any bid from the seller or any person employed by him. Any sale contravening this rule may be treated as fraudulent by the buyer.

SEC. 22. RISK OF LOSS.—Unless otherwise agreed, the goods remain at the seller's risk until the property therein is transferred to the buyer, but when the property therein is transferred to the buyer the goods are at the buyer's risk whether delivery has been made or not, except that—

Risk of loss.

(a) Where delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer or to a bailee for the buyer, in pursuance of the contract and the property in the goods has been retained by the seller merely to secure performance by the buyer of his obligations under the contract, the goods are at the buyer's risk from the time of such delivery.

(b) Where delivery has been delayed through the fault of either the buyer or seller the goods are at the risk of the party in fault as regards any loss which might not have occurred but for such fault.

TRANSFER OF TITLE

Transfer of title.

SEC. 23. SALE BY A PERSON NOT THE OWNER.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, where goods are sold by a person who is not the owner thereof, and who does not sell them under the authority or with the consent of the owner, the buyer acquires no better title to the goods than the seller had, unless the owner of the goods is by his conduct precluded from denying the seller's authority to sell.

Sale by other than owner.

Provisions not affected.

(2) Nothing in this Act, however, shall affect—

(a) The provisions of any factors' acts, recording acts, or any enactment enabling the apparent owner of goods to dispose of them as if he were the true owner thereof.

(b) The validity of any contract to sell or sale under any special common law or statutory power of sale or under the order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Sale by one having a voidable title.

SEC. 24. SALE BY ONE HAVING A VOIDABLE TITLE.—Where the seller of goods has a voidable title thereto, but his title has not been voided at the time of the sale, the buyer acquires a good title to the goods, provided he buys them in good faith, for value, and without notice of the seller's defect of title.

Sale by seller in possession of goods already sold.

SEC. 25. SALE BY SELLER IN POSSESSION OF GOODS ALREADY SOLD.—Where a person having sold goods continues in possession of the goods, or of negotiable documents of title to the goods, the delivery or transfer by that person, or by an agent acting for him, of the goods or documents of title under any sale, pledge, or other disposition thereof, to any person receiving and paying value for the same in good faith and without notice of the previous sale, shall have the same effect as if the person making the delivery or transfer were expressly authorized by the owner of the goods to make the same.

Creditors' rights against sold goods in seller's possession.

SEC. 26. CREDITORS' RIGHTS AGAINST SOLD GOODS IN SELLER'S POSSESSION.—Where a person having sold goods continues in possession of the goods, or of negotiable documents of title to the goods and such retention of possession is fraudulent in fact or is deemed fraudulent under any rule of law, a creditor or creditors of the seller may treat the sale as void.

Definition of negotiable documents of title.

SEC. 27. DEFINITION OF NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENTS OF TITLE.—A document of title in which it is stated that the goods referred to therein will be delivered to the bearer, or to the order of any person named in such document is a negotiable document of title within the meaning of this Act.

Negotiation of negotiable documents by delivery.

SEC. 28. NEGOTIATION OF NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENTS BY DELIVERY.—A negotiable document of title may be negotiated by delivery—

(a) Where by the terms of the document the carrier, warehouseman, or other bailee issuing the same undertakes to deliver the goods to the bearer; or

(b) Where by the terms of the document the carrier, warehouseman, or other bailee issuing the same, undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of a specified person, and such person or a subsequent endorsee of the document has endorsed it in blank or to the bearer.

Where by the terms of a negotiable document of title the goods are deliverable to bearer or where a negotiable document of title has been endorsed in blank or to bearer, any holder may endorse the same to himself or to any specified person, and in such case the document shall thereafter be negotiated only by the endorsement of such endorsee.

By endorsement.

SEC. 29. NEGOTIATION OF NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENTS BY ENDORSEMENT.—A negotiable document of title may be negotiated by the endorsement of the person to whose order<sup>1</sup> the goods are by the terms of the document deliverable. Such endorsement may be in blank, to bearer, or to a specified person. If endorsed to a specified person, it may be again negotiated by the endorsement of such person in blank, to bearer, or to another specified person. Subsequent negotiations may be made in like manner.

SEC. 30. NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENTS OF TITLE MARKED "NOT NEGOTIABLE".—If a document of title which contains an undertaking by a carrier, warehouseman, or other bailee to deliver the goods to the bearer, to a specified person or order, or to the order of a specified person, or which contains words of like import, has placed upon it the words "not negotiable", "nonnegotiable", or the like, such a document may nevertheless be negotiated by the holder and is a negotiable document of title within the meaning of this Act. But nothing in this Act contained shall be construed as limiting or defining the effect upon the obligations of the carrier, warehouseman, or other bailee issuing a document of title or placing thereon the words "not negotiable", "nonnegotiable", or the like.

Negotiable documents of title marked "Not negotiable."

SEC. 31. TRANSFER OF NONNEGOTIABLE DOCUMENTS.—A document of title which is not in such form that it can be negotiated by delivery may be transferred by the holder by delivery to a purchaser or donee. A nonnegotiable document cannot be negotiated and the endorsement of such a document gives the transferee no additional right.

Transfer of nonnegotiable documents.

SEC. 32. WHO MAY NEGOTIATE A DOCUMENT.—A negotiable document may be negotiated by any person in possession of the same, however such possession may have been acquired if, by the terms of the document, the bailee issuing it undertakes to deliver the goods to the order of such person, or if at the time of negotiation the document is in such form that it may be negotiated by delivery.

Who may negotiate a document.

SEC. 33. RIGHTS OF PERSON TO WHOM DOCUMENT HAS BEEN NEGOTIATED.—A person to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby—

Rights of person to whom document has been negotiated.

(a) Such title to the goods as the person negotiating the document to him had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value and also such title to the goods as the person to whose order the goods were to be delivered by the terms of the document had or had ability to convey to a purchaser in good faith for value; and

(b) The direct obligation of the bailee issuing the document to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the document as fully as if such bailee had contracted directly with him.

SEC. 34. RIGHTS OF PERSON TO WHOM DOCUMENT HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED.—A person to whom a document of title has been transferred, but not negotiated, acquires thereby, as against the transferor, the title to the goods, subject to the terms of any agreement with the transferor.

Rights of person to whom document has been transferred.

If the document is nonnegotiable, such person also acquires the right to notify the bailee who issued the document of the transfer thereof, and thereby to acquire the direct obligation of such bailee to hold possession of the goods for him according to the terms of the document.

Prior to the notification of such bailee by the transferor or transferee of a nonnegotiable document of title, the title of the transferee to the goods and the right to acquire the obligation of such bailee may be defeated by the levy of an attachment or execution upon the goods by a creditor of the transferor, or by a notification to such bailee by the transferor or a subsequent purchaser from the transferor of a subsequent sale of the goods by the transferor.

SEC. 35. TRANSFER OF NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENT WITHOUT ENDORSEMENT.—Where a negotiable document of title is transferred for value by delivery, and the endorsement of the transferor is essential for negotiation, the transferee acquires a right against the transferor to compel him to endorse the document unless a contrary intention appears. The negotiation shall take effect as of the time when the endorsement is actually made.

Transfer of negotiable document without endorsement.

Warranties on sale of document.

SEC. 36. WARRANTIES ON SALE OF DOCUMENT.—A person who for value negotiates or transfers a document of title by endorsement or delivery, including one who assigns for value a claim secured by a document of title unless a contrary intention appears, warrants:

- (a) That the document is genuine;
- (b) That he has a legal right to negotiate or transfer it;
- (c) That he has knowledge of no fact which would impair the validity or worth of the document; and
- (d) That he has a right to transfer the title to the goods and that the goods are merchantable or fit for a particular purpose, whenever such warranties would have been implied if the contract of the parties had been to transfer without a document of title the goods represented thereby.

Endorser not a guarantor.

SEC. 37. ENDORSER NOT A GUARANTOR.—The endorsement of a document of title shall not make the endorser liable for any failure on the part of the bailee who issued the document or previous endorser thereof to fulfill their respective obligations.

When negotiation not impaired by fraud, etc.

SEC. 38. WHEN NEGOTIATION NOT IMPAIRED BY FRAUD, MISTAKE, OR DURESS.—The validity of the negotiation of a negotiable document of title is not impaired by the fact that the negotiation was a breach of duty on the part of the person making the negotiation, or by the fact that the owner of the document was deprived of the possession of the same by loss, theft, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, or conversion, if the person to whom the document was negotiated or a person to whom the document was subsequently negotiated paid value therefor in good faith without notice of the breach of duty, or loss, theft, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, or conversion.

Attachment or levy upon goods for which a negotiable document has been issued.

SEC. 39. ATTACHMENT OR LEVY UPON GOODS FOR WHICH A NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENT HAS BEEN ISSUED.—If goods are delivered to a bailee by the owner or by a person whose act in conveying the title to them to a purchaser in good faith for value would bind the owner and a negotiable document of title is issued for them, they cannot thereafter, while in the possession of such bailee, be attached by garnishment or otherwise or be levied under an execution unless the document be first surrendered to the bailee or its negotiation enjoined. The bailee shall in no case be compelled to deliver up the actual possession of the goods until the document is surrendered to him or impounded by the court.

Creditors' remedies to reach negotiable documents.

SEC. 40. CREDITORS' REMEDIES TO REACH NEGOTIABLE DOCUMENTS.—A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a negotiable document of title shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction by injunction and otherwise in attaching such document or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process.

Part III.

PART III

Performance of the contract.

PERFORMANCE OF THE CONTRACT

Seller must deliver and buyer accept goods.

SEC. 41. SELLER MUST DELIVER AND BUYER ACCEPT GOODS.—It is the duty of the seller to deliver the goods, and of the buyer to accept and pay for them, in accordance with the terms of the contract to sell or sale.

Delivery and payment are concurrent conditions.

SEC. 42. DELIVERY AND PAYMENT ARE CONCURRENT CONDITIONS.—Unless otherwise agreed, delivery of the goods and payment of the price are concurrent conditions; that is to say, the seller must be ready and willing to give possession of the goods to the buyer in exchange for the price and the buyer must be ready and willing to pay the price in exchange for possession of the goods.

SEC. 43. PLACE, TIME, AND MANNER OF DELIVERY.—(1) Whether it is for the buyer to take possession of the goods or for the seller to send them to the buyer is a question depending in each case on the contract, express or implied, between the parties. Apart from any such contract, express or implied, or usage of trade to the contrary, the place of delivery is the seller's place of business if he have one, and if not his residence; but in case of a contract to sell or a sale of specific goods, which to the knowledge of the parties when the contract or the sale was made were in some other place, then that place is the place of delivery.

Place, time, and manner of delivery.

(2) Where by a contract to sell or a sale the seller is bound to send the goods to the buyer, but no time for sending them is fixed, the seller is bound to send them within a reasonable time.

(3) Where the goods at the time of sale are in the possession of a third person, the seller has not fulfilled his obligation to deliver to the buyer unless and until such third person acknowledges to the buyer that he holds the goods on the buyer's behalf; but as against all others than the seller the buyer shall be regarded as having received delivery from the time when such third person first has notice of the sale. Nothing in this section, however, shall affect the operation of the issue or transfer of any document of title to goods.

(4) Demand or tender of delivery may be treated as ineffectual unless made at a reasonable hour. What is a reasonable hour is a question of fact.

(5) Unless otherwise agreed, the expenses of and incidental to putting the goods into a deliverable state must be borne by the seller.

SEC. 44. DELIVERY OF WRONG QUANTITY.—(1) Where the seller delivers to the buyer a quantity of goods less than he contracted to sell, the buyer may reject them, but if the buyer accepts or retains the goods so delivered, knowing that the seller is not going to perform the contract in full, he must pay for them at the contract rate. If, however, the buyer has used or disposed of the goods delivered before he knows that the seller is not going to perform his contract in full, the buyer shall not be liable for more than the fair value to him of the goods so received.

Delivery of wrong quantity.

(2) Where the seller delivers to the buyer a quantity of goods larger than he contracted to sell, the buyer may accept the goods included in the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole. If the buyer accepts the whole of the goods so delivered he must pay for them at the contract rate.

(3) Where the seller delivers to the buyer the goods he contracted to sell mixed with goods of a different description not included in the contract, the buyer may accept the goods which are in accordance with the contract and reject the rest, or he may reject the whole.

(4) The provisions of this section are subject to any usage of trade, special agreement, or course of dealing between the parties.

SEC. 45. DELIVERY IN INSTALLMENTS.—(1) Unless otherwise agreed, the buyer of goods is not bound to accept delivery thereof by installments.

Delivery in installments.

(2) Where there is a contract to sell goods to be delivered by stated installments, which are to be separately paid for, and the seller makes defective deliveries in respect of one or more installments, or the buyer neglects or refuses to make delivery of or pay for one or more installments, it depends in each case on the terms of the contract and the circumstances of the case, whether the breach of contract is so material as to justify the injured party in refusing to proceed further and suing for damages for breach of the entire contract, or whether the breach is severable, giving rise to a claim for compensation but not to a right to treat the whole contract as broken.

Delivery to a carrier on behalf of the buyer.

SEC. 46. DELIVERY TO A CARRIER ON BEHALF OF THE BUYER.—(1) Where, in pursuance of a contract to sell or a sale, the seller is authorized or required to send the goods to the buyer, delivery of the goods to a carrier, whether named by the buyer or not, for the purpose of transmission to the buyer is deemed to be a delivery of the goods to the buyer, except in the cases provided for in section 19, rule 5, or unless a contrary intent appears.

(2) Unless otherwise authorized by the buyer, the seller must make such contract with the carrier on behalf of the buyer as may be reasonable, having regard to the nature of the goods and the other circumstances of the case. If the seller omit so to do, and the goods are lost or damaged in course of transit, the buyer may decline to treat the delivery to the carrier as a delivery to himself, or may hold the seller responsible in damages.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed, where goods are sent by the seller to the buyer under circumstances in which the seller knows or ought to know that it is usual to insure, the seller must give such notice to the buyer as may enable him to insure them during their transit, and, if the seller fails to do so, the goods shall be deemed to be at his risk during such transit.

Right to examine the goods.

SEC. 47. RIGHT TO EXAMINE THE GOODS.—(1) Where goods are delivered to the buyer which he has not previously examined, he is not deemed to have accepted them unless and until he has had a reasonable opportunity of examining them for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are in conformity with the contract.

(2) Unless otherwise agreed, when the seller tenders delivery of goods to the buyer, he is bound, on request, to afford the buyer a reasonable opportunity of examining the goods for the purpose of ascertaining whether they are in conformity with the contract.

(3) Where goods are delivered to a carrier by the seller, in accordance with an order from or agreement with the buyer, upon the terms that the goods shall not be delivered by the carrier to the buyer until he has paid the price, whether such terms are indicated by marking the goods with the words "collect on delivery", or otherwise, the buyer is not entitled to examine the goods before payment of the price in the absence of agreement permitting such examination.

What constitutes acceptance.

SEC. 48. WHAT CONSTITUTES ACCEPTANCE.—The buyer is deemed to have accepted the goods when he intimates to the seller that he has accepted them, or when the goods have been delivered to him, and he does any act in relation to them which is inconsistent with the ownership of the seller, or when, after the lapse of a reasonable time, he retains the goods without intimating to the seller that he has rejected them.

Acceptance does not bar action for damages.

SEC. 49. ACCEPTANCE DOES NOT BAR ACTION FOR DAMAGES.—In the absence of express or implied agreement of the parties, acceptance of the goods by the buyer shall not discharge the seller from liability in damages or other legal remedy for breach of any promise or warranty in the contract to sell or the sale. But, if, after acceptance of the goods, the buyer fail to give notice to the seller of the breach of any promise or warranty within a reasonable time after the buyer knows, or ought to know of such breach, the seller shall not be liable therefor.

Buyer is not bound to return goods wrongly delivered.

SEC. 50. BUYER IS NOT BOUND TO RETURN GOODS WRONGLY DELIVERED.—Unless otherwise agreed, where goods are delivered to the buyer, and he refused to accept them, having the right so to do, he is not bound to return them to the seller, but it is sufficient if he notifies the seller that he refuses to accept them.

SEC. 51. BUYER'S LIABILITY FOR FAILING TO ACCEPT DELIVERY.—When the seller is ready and willing to deliver the goods, and requests the buyer to take delivery, and the buyer does not within a reasonable time after such request take delivery of the goods, he is liable to the seller for any loss occasioned by his neglect or refusal to take delivery, and also for a reasonable charge for the care and custody of the goods. If the neglect or refusal of the buyer to take delivery amounts to a repudiation or breach of the entire contract, the seller shall have the right against the goods and on the contract hereinafter provided in favor of the seller when the buyer is in default.

Buyer's liability for failing to accept delivery.

PART IV

Part IV.

RIGHTS OF UNPAID SELLER AGAINST THE GOODS

SEC. 52. DEFINITION OF UNPAID SELLER.—(1) The seller of goods is deemed to be an unpaid seller within the meaning of this Act—

Rights of unpaid seller against the goods.
Definition of unpaid seller.

(a) When the whole of the price has not been paid or tendered.

(b) When a bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument has been received as conditional payment, and the condition on which it was received has been broken by reason of the dishonor of the instrument, the insolvency of the buyer, or otherwise.

(2) In this part of this Act the term "seller" includes an agent of the seller to whom the bill of lading has been endorsed, or a consignor or agent who has himself paid, or is directly responsible for, the price, or any other person who is in the position of a seller.

SEC. 53. REMEDIES OF AN UNPAID SELLER.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, notwithstanding that the property in the goods may have passed to the buyer, the unpaid seller of goods, as such has—

Remedies.

(a) A lien on the goods or right to retain them for the price while he is in possession of them;

(b) In case of insolvency of the buyer, the right of stopping the goods in transitu after he has parted with the possession of them;

(c) A right of resale as limited by this Act; and

(d) A right to rescind the sale as limited by this Act.

(2) Where the property in goods has not passed to the buyer, the unpaid seller has, in addition to his other remedies, a right of withholding delivery similar to and coextensive with his rights of lien and stoppage in transitu where the property has passed to the buyer.

UNPAID SELLER'S LIEN

Unpaid seller's lien.

SEC. 54. WHEN RIGHT OF LIEN MAY BE EXERCISED.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the unpaid seller of goods who is in possession of them is entitled to retain possession of them until payment or tender of the price in the following cases, namely—

When right of lien may be exercised.

(a) Where the goods have been sold without any stipulation as to credit;

(b) Where the goods have been sold on credit, but the term of credit has expired; and

(c) Where the buyer becomes insolvent.

(2) The seller may exercise his right of lien, notwithstanding that he is in possession of the goods as agent or bailee for the buyer.

SEC. 55. LIEN AFTER PART DELIVERY.—Where an unpaid seller has made part delivery of the goods, he may exercise his right of lien on the remainder, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an intent to waive the lien or right of retention.

Lien after part delivery.

When lien is lost.

SEC. 56. WHEN LIEN IS LOST.—(1) The unpaid seller of goods loses his lien thereon—

(a) When he delivers the goods to a carrier or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer without reserving the property in the goods or the right to the possession thereof;

(b) When the buyer or his agent lawfully obtains possession of the goods; and

(c) By waiver thereof.

(2) The unpaid seller of goods, having a lien thereon, does not lose his lien by reason only that he has obtained judgment or decree for the price of the goods.

Stoppage in transit.

STOPPAGE IN TRANSIT

Seller may stop goods on buyer's insolvency.

SEC. 57. SELLER MAY STOP GOODS ON BUYER'S INSOLVENCY.—Subject to the provisions of this Act, when the buyer of goods is or becomes insolvent, the unpaid seller who has parted with the possession of the goods has the right of stopping them in transitu; that is to say, he may resume possession of the goods at any time while they are in transit, and he will then become entitled to the same rights in regard to the goods as he would have had if he had never parted with the possession.

When goods are in transit.

SEC. 58. WHEN GOODS ARE IN TRANSIT.—(1) Goods are in transit within the meaning of section 57—

(a) From the time when they are delivered to a carrier by land or water, or other bailee for the purpose of transmission to the buyer, until the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, takes delivery of them from such carrier or other bailee; and

(b) If the goods are rejected by the buyer, and the carrier or other bailee continues in possession of them, even if the seller has refused to receive them back.

When no longer in transit.

(2) Goods are no longer in transit within the meaning of section 57—

(a) If the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, obtains delivery of the goods before their arrival at the appointed destination;

(b) If, after the arrival of the goods at the appointed destination, the carrier or other bailee acknowledges to the buyer or his agent that he holds the goods on his behalf and continues in possession of them as bailee for the buyer or his agent; and it is immaterial that a further destination for the goods may have been indicated by the buyer; and

(c) If the carrier or other bailee wrongfully refuses to deliver the goods to the buyer or his agent in that behalf.

Delivery to chartered ship.

(3) If goods are delivered to a ship chartered by the buyer, it is a question depending on the circumstances of the particular case, whether they are in the possession of the master as a carrier or as agent of the buyer.

Part delivery.

(4) If part delivery of the goods has been made to the buyer, or his agent in that behalf, the remainder of the goods may be stopped in transitu, unless such part delivery has been made under such circumstances as to show an agreement with the buyer to give up possession of the whole of the goods.

Ways of exercising right to stop.

SEC. 59. WAYS OF EXERCISING THE RIGHT TO STOP.—(1) The unpaid seller may exercise his right of stoppage in transitu either by obtaining actual possession of the goods or by giving notice of his claim to the carrier or other bailee in whose possession the goods are. Such notice may be given either to the person in actual possession of the goods or to his principal. In the latter case the notice, to be effectual, must be given at such time and under such circumstances that the principal, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, may prevent a delivery to the buyer.

(2) When notice of stoppage in transitu is given by the seller to the carrier, or other bailee in possession of the goods, he must redeliver the goods to, or according to the directions of, the seller. The expenses of such delivery must be borne by the seller. If, however, a negotiable document of title representing the goods has been issued by the carrier or other bailee, he shall not be obliged to deliver or justified in delivering the goods to the seller unless such document is first surrendered for cancellation.

RESALE BY THE SELLER

Resale by seller.

SEC. 60. WHEN AND HOW RESALE MAY BE MADE.—(1) Where the goods are of perishable nature, or where the seller expressly reserves the right of resale in case the buyer should make default, or where the buyer has been in default in the payment of the price an unreasonable time, an unpaid seller having a right of lien or having stopped the goods in transitu may resell the goods. He shall not thereafter be liable to the original buyer upon the contract to sell or the sale or for any profit made by such resale, but may recover from the buyer damages for any loss occasioned by the breach of the contract or the sale.

When and how resale may be made.

(2) Where a resale is made, as authorized in this section, the buyer acquires a good title as against the original buyer.

(3) It is not essential to the validity of a resale that notice of an intention to resell the goods be given by the seller to the original buyer. But where the right to resell is not based on the perishable nature of the goods or upon an express provision of the contract or the sale, the giving or failure to give such notice shall be relevant in any issue involving the question whether the buyer had been in default an unreasonable time before the resale was made.

(4) It is not essential to the validity of a resale that notice of the time and place of such resale should be given by the seller to the original buyer.

(5) The seller is bound to exercise reasonable care and judgment in making a resale, and subject to this requirement may make a resale either by public or private sale.

RESCISSION BY THE SELLER

Rescission by seller.

SEC. 61. WHEN AND HOW THE SELLER MAY RESCIND THE SALE.—(1) An unpaid seller having the right of lien or having stopped the goods in transitu, may rescind the transfer of title and resume the property in the goods, where he expressly reserved the right to do so in case the buyer should make default, or where the buyer has been in default in the payment of the price an unreasonable time. The seller shall not thereafter be liable to the buyer upon the contract to sell or the sale, but may recover from the buyer damages for any loss occasioned by the breach of the contract or the sale.

When and how seller may rescind the sale.

(2) The transfer of title shall not be held to have been rescinded by an unpaid seller until he has manifested by notice to the buyer or by some other overt act an intention to rescind. It is not necessary that such overt act should be communicated to the buyer, but the giving or failure to give notice to the buyer of the intention to rescind shall be relevant in any issue involving the question whether the buyer had been in default an unreasonable time before the right of rescission was asserted.

Notice, etc., of intention to rescind.

Effect of sale of goods subject to lien or stoppage in transitu.

SEC. 62. EFFECT OF SALE OF GOODS SUBJECT TO LIEN OR STOPPAGE IN TRANSITU.—Subject to the provisions of this Act, the unpaid seller's right of lien or stoppage in transitu is not affected by any sale, or other disposition of the goods which the buyer may have made, unless the seller has assented thereto.

If, however, a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods, no seller's lien or right of stoppage in transitu shall defeat the right of any purchaser for value in good faith to whom such document has been negotiated, whether such negotiations be prior or subsequent to the notification to the carrier, or other bailee who issued such document, of the seller's claim to a lien or right of stoppage in transitu.

Part V.

PART V

Action for breach of the contract; remedies
of the seller.
Action for the price.

ACTION FOR BREACH OF THE CONTRACT; REMEDIES OF THE SELLER

SEC. 63. ACTION FOR THE PRICE.—(1) Where, under a contract to sell or a sale, the property in the goods has passed to the buyer, and the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to pay for the goods according to the terms of the contract or the sale, the seller may maintain an action against him for the price of the goods.

(2) Where, under a contract to sell or a sale, the price is payable on a day certain, irrespective of delivery or of transfer of title, and the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to pay such price, the seller may maintain an action for the price, although the property in the goods has not passed, and the goods have not been appropriated to the contract. But it shall be a defense to such an action that the seller at any time before judgment in such action has manifested an inability to perform the contract or the sale on his part or an intention not to perform it.

(3) Although the property in the goods has not passed, if they cannot readily be resold for a reasonable price, and if the provisions of section 64 (4) are not applicable, the seller may offer to deliver the goods to the buyer, and, if the buyer refuses to receive them, may notify the buyer that the goods are thereafter held by the seller as bailee for the buyer. Thereafter the seller may treat the goods as the buyer's and may maintain an action for the price.

Action for damages
the goods.

SEC. 64. ACTION FOR DAMAGES FOR NONACCEPTANCE OF THE GOODS.—(1) Where the buyer wrongfully neglects or refuses to accept and pay for the goods, the seller may maintain an action against him for damages for nonacceptance.

(2) The measure of damages is the estimated loss directly and naturally resulting, in the ordinary course of events, from the buyer's breach of contract.

(3) Where there is an available market for the goods in question, the measure of damages is, in the absence of special circumstances, showing proximate damage of a greater amount, the difference between the contract price and the market or current price at the time or times when the goods ought to have been accepted, or, if no time was fixed for acceptance, then at the time of the refusal to accept.

(4) If, while labor or expense of material amount are necessary on the part of the seller to enable him to fulfill his obligations under the contract to sell or the sale, the buyer repudiates the contract or the sale, or notifies the seller to proceed no further therewith, the buyer shall be liable to the seller for no greater damages than the seller would have suffered if he did nothing toward carrying out the contract or the sale after receiving notice of the buyer's repudiation or countermand. The profit the seller would have made if the contract or the sale had been fully performed shall be considered in estimating such damages.

SEC. 65. WHEN SELLER MAY RESCIND CONTRACT OR SALE.—Where the goods have not been delivered to the buyer, and the buyer has repudiated the contract to sell or sale, or has manifested his inability to perform his obligations thereunder, or has committed a material breach thereof, the seller may totally rescind the contract or the sale by giving notice of his election so to do to the buyer.

When seller may rescind contract or sale.

REMEDIES OF THE BUYER

Remedies of the buyer.

SEC. 66. ACTION FOR CONVERTING OR DETAINING GOODS.—Where the property in the goods has passed to the buyer and the seller wrongfully neglects or refuses to deliver the goods, the buyer may maintain any action allowed by law to the owner of goods of similar kind when wrongfully converted or withheld.

Action for converting or detaining goods.

SEC. 67. ACTION FOR FAILING TO DELIVER GOODS.—(1) Where the property in the goods has not passed to the buyer, and the seller wrongfully neglects or refuses to deliver the goods, the buyer may maintain an action against the seller for damages for nondelivery. (2) The measure of damages is the loss directly and naturally resulting in the ordinary course of events, from the seller's breach of contract.

Action for failing to deliver goods.

(3) Where there is an available market for the goods in question, the measure of damages, in the absence of special circumstances showing proximate damages of a greater amount, is the difference between the contract price and the market or current price of the goods at the time or times when they ought to have been delivered or if no time was fixed, then at the time of the refusal to deliver.

SEC. 68. SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.—Where the seller has broken a contract to deliver specific or ascertained goods, a court having the powers of a court of equity may, if it thinks fit, on the application of the buyer, by its judgment or decree direct that the contract shall be performed specifically, without giving the seller the option of retaining the goods on payment of damages. The judgment or decree may be unconditional or upon such terms and conditions as to damages, payment of the price, and otherwise, as to the court may seem just.

Specific performance.

SEC. 69. REMEDIES FOR BREACH OF WARRANTY.—(1) Where there is a breach of warranty by the seller, the buyer may, at his election—

Remedies for breach of warranty.

(a) Accept or keep the goods and set up against the seller the breach of warranty by way of recoupment in diminution or extinction of the price;

(b) Accept or keep the goods and maintain an action against the seller for damages for the breach of warranty;

(c) Refuse to accept the goods, if the property therein has not passed, and maintain an action against the seller for damages for the breach of warranty; and

(d) Rescind the contract to sell, or the sale, and refuse to receive the goods; or if the goods have already been received return them or offer to return them to the seller and recover the price or any part thereof which has been paid.

(2) When the buyer has claimed and has been granted a remedy in any one of these ways, no other remedy can thereafter be granted.

(3) Where the goods have been delivered to the buyer, he cannot rescind the sale if he knew of the breach of warranty when he accepted the goods, or if he fails to notify the seller within a reasonable time of the election to rescind, or if he fails to return or to offer to return the goods to the seller in substantially as good condition as they were in at the time the property was transferred to the buyer. But if deterioration or injury of the goods is due to the breach of warranty, such deterioration or injury shall not prevent the buyer from returning or offering to return the goods to the seller and rescinding the sale.

(4) Where the buyer is entitled to rescind the sale and elects to do so, the buyer shall cease to be liable for the price upon returning or offering to return the goods. If the price or any part thereof has already been paid, the seller shall be liable to repay so much thereof as has been paid, concurrently with the return of the goods, or immediately after an offer to return the goods in exchange for repayment of the price.

(5) Where the buyer is entitled to rescind the sale and elects to do so, if the seller refuses to accept an offer of the buyer to return the goods, the buyer shall thereafter be deemed to hold the goods as bailee for the seller, but subject to a lien to secure the repayment of any portion of the price which has been paid, and with the remedies for the enforcement of such lien allowed to an unpaid seller by section 53.

(6) The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the loss directly and naturally resulting, in the ordinary course of events, from the breach of warranty.

(7) In the case of breach of warranty of quality, such loss, in the absence of special circumstances showing proximate damage of a greater amount, is the difference between the value of the goods at the time of delivery to the buyer and the value they would have had if they had answered to the warranty.

Ante, p. 41.

Interest and special damages.

SEC. 70. INTEREST AND SPECIAL DAMAGES.—Nothing in this Act shall affect the right of the buyer or the seller to recover interest or special damages in any case where by law interest or special damages may be recoverable, or to recover money paid where the consideration for the payment of it has failed.

March 24, 1937
[H. R. 5487]
[Public, No. 25]

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 4551 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, as amended (U. S. C., 1934 ed., Supp. II, title 46, sec. 643), is amended to read as follows:

"SEC. 4551. (a) Every seaman upon a merchant vessel of the United States of the burden of one hundred gross tons or upward, except vessels employed exclusively in trade on the navigable rivers of the United States, shall be furnished, at the option of the seaman, with a book to be known as a continuous discharge book or with a certificate of identification, which book or certificate shall be retained by the seaman and shall contain the signature of the seaman to whom it is so furnished and a statement of his nationality, age, personal description, photograph, thumbprint, and home address. Such books or certificates shall be issued by the shipping commissioners, or, at ports where no shipping commissioners have been appointed, by collectors or deputy collectors of customs or United States local inspectors of steam vessels, in such manner and form as the Director of the Bureau of Marine Inspection and Navigation, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, shall determine. Any individual, firm, partnership, corporation, or association which shall issue any such book or certificate, or make any statement or endorsement therein, except as authorized by the provisions of this section, or issue any imitation of any such book or certificate, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be imprisoned not less than one month nor more than three months, in the discretion of the court.

"(b) Any person applying for such book or certificate and claiming to be a citizen of the United States shall furnish satisfactory evidence of such citizenship.

"(c) No seaman shall be employed on any vessel to which this section applies until he has exhibited a certificate of identification or a continuous discharge book to the shipping commissioner, or in cases where seamen are not signed on before the shipping commissioner, to the master of the vessel: Provided, That the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to the employment of seamen at a foreign port or place, in which case seamen so employed shall be furnished a continuous discharge book or a certificate of identification, in accordance with the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, at the first port of entry in the United States or its territories at which the vessel arrives after such seamen are so employed.

"(d) Upon the discharge of any seaman and the payment of his wages, the shipping commissioner shall enter in the continuous discharge book of such seaman, if the seaman carries such a book, the name and official number of the vessel, the nature of the voyage (foreign, intercoastal, or coastwise), the class to which the vessel

Post, p. 567.

To regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That regulation of the sale and distribution in interstate commerce of bituminous coal is imperative for the protection of such commerce; that there exist practices and methods of distribution and marketing of such coal that waste the coal resources of the Nation and disorganize, burden, and obstruct interstate commerce in bituminous coal, with the result that regulation of the prices thereof and of unfair methods of competition therein is necessary to promote interstate commerce in bituminous coal and to remove burdens and obstructions therefrom.

NATIONAL BITUMINOUS COAL COMMISSION

SEC. 2. (a) There is hereby established in the Department of the Interior a National Bituminous Coal Commission (herein referred to as Commission), which shall be composed of seven members appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a term of four years. The Commission shall annually designate its chairman, and shall have a seal which shall be judicially recognized. Any person appointed to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of his predecessor in office. The Commission shall have an office in the city of Washington, District of Columbia, and shall convene at such times and places as the majority of the Commission shall determine. Two members of the Commission shall have been experienced bituminous coal mine workers, two shall have had previous experience as producers, but none of the members shall have any financial interest, direct or indirect, in the mining, transportation, or sale of, or manufacture of equipment for, coal (whether or not bituminous coal), oil, or gas, or in the generation, transmission, or sale of hydro-electric power, or in the manufacture of equipment for the use thereof, and shall not actively engage in any other business, vocation, or employment. Not more than one commissioner shall be a resident of any one State, and not more than one commissioner shall be a resident of any one of the districts hereinafter established, but a change in any of the boundaries of the districts, made by the Commission as hereinafter provided, shall not affect the tenure of office of any commissioner then serving. Any commissioner may be removed by the President for inefficiency, neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office. The Commission is authorized to appoint and fix the compensation and duties of a secretary and necessary professional, clerical, and other assistants. With the exception of the secretary, a clerk to each commissioner, the attorneys, the managers and employees of the statistical bureaus hereinafter provided for, and such special agents, technical experts, and examiners as the Commission may require, all employees of the Commission shall be appointed and their compensation fixed in accordance with the provisions of the civil-service laws and the Classification Act of 1923, as amended. No person appointed without regard to the provisions of the civil-service laws shall be related to any member of the Commission by marriage or within the third degree by blood. The Commission is authorized to accept and utilize voluntary and uncompensated services of any person or of any official of a State or political subdivision thereof. The members of the Commission shall each receive compensation at the rate of $10,000 per year and necessary traveling expenses. Such Commission shall have the power to make and promulgate all reasonable rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this Act and shall annually make full report of its activities to the Secretary of the Interior for transmission to Congress. A majority of the Commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and a vacancy in the Commission shall not impair the right of the remaining members to exercise all the power of the Commission. No order which is subject to judicial review under section 6, and no rule or regulation which has the force and effect of law, shall be made or prescribed by the Commission, unless it has given reasonable public notice of a hearing, and unless it has afforded to interested parties an opportunity to be heard, and unless it has made findings of fact. Such findings, if supported by substantial evidence shall be conclusive upon review thereof by any court of the United States. The Commission may establish divisions, each of which divisions shall consist of not less than three of its members, as it may deem necessary for the proper dispatch of its business. Each such division shall exercise all the powers and authority of the Commission in the premises: Provided, That any person in interest may, upon written petition, secure a review by the Commission of the report, finding, or order

The Commission may by its order assign or refer any matter within its jurisdiction under this Act to an individual Commissioner, to a board composed of employees of the Commission, or to an examiner, to be designated by such order, for hearing and the recommendation of an appropriate order in the premises. Each individual Commissioner, board, or examiner, when so directed by order of the Commission, shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, to examine witnesses, and receive evidence. The Commission is authorized to make contracts for personal services in the District of Columbia and elsewhere and to establish and maintain such offices throughout the United States as it deems necessary for the effective administration of this Act, but shall maintain its principal office in the District of Columbia.

The Commission is hereby authorized to initiate, promote, and conduct research designed to improve standards and methods used in the mining, preparation, conservation, distribution, and utilization of coal and the discovery of additional uses for coal, and for such purposes shall have authority to assist educational, governmental, and other research institutions in conducting research in coal, and to do such other acts and things as it deems necessary and proper to promote the use of coal and its derivatives.

(b) (1) There is hereby established an office in the Department of the Interior to be known as the office of the consumers' counsel of the National Bituminous Coal Commission. The office shall be in charge of a counsel to be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. The counsel shall have no financial interest, direct or indirect, in the mining, transportation, or sale of, or the manufacture of equipment for, coal (whether or not bituminous coal), oil, or gas, or in the generation, transmission, or sale of hydroelectric power, or in the manufacture of equipment for the use thereof, and shall not actively engage in any other business, vocation, or employment. The counsel shall receive compensation, at the rate of $10,000 per year and necessary traveling expenses.

(2) It shall be the duty of the counsel to appear in the interest of the consuming public in any proceeding before the Commission and to conduct such independent investigation of matters relative to the coal industry and the administration of this Act as he may deem necessary to enable him properly to represent the consuming public in any proceeding before the Commission. In any such proceeding before the Commission, the counsel shall have the right to offer any relevant testimony and argument, oral or written, and to examine and cross-examine witnesses and parties to the proceeding, and shall have the right to have subpoena or other process of the Commission issue in his behalf. Whenever the counsel finds that it is in the interest of the consuming public to have the Commission furnish any information at its command or conduct any investigation as to any matter within its authority, the counsel shall so certify to the Commission, specifying in the certificate the information or investigation desired. Thereupon the Commission shall promptly furnish to the counsel the information or promptly conduct the investigation and place the results thereof at the disposal of the counsel.

(3) The counsel is authorized to appoint and fix the compensation and duties of necessary professional, clerical, and other assistants. With the exception of a clerk to the counsel, the attorneys, and such special agents and experts as the counsel may from time to time find necessary for the conduct of his work, all employees of the counsel shall be appointed and their compensation fixed in accordance with the civil-service laws and the Classification Act of 1923, as amended.

The counsel is authorized to make such expenditures as may be necessary for the performance of the duties vested in him.

The term "disposal" as used in this section includes consumption or use (whether in the production of coke or fuel, or otherwise) by a producer, and any transfer of title by the producer other than by sale.

(b) In addition to the tax imposed by subsection (a) of this section, there is hereby imposed upon the sale or other disposal of bituminous coal produced within the United States, when sold or otherwise disposed of by the producer thereof, which would be subject to the application of the conditions and provisions of the code provided for in section 4, or of the provisions of section 4-A, an excise tax in an amount equal to 19½ per centum of the sale price at the mine in the case of coal disposed of by sale at the mine, or in the case of coal disposed of otherwise than by sale at the mine, and coal sold otherwise than through an arms' length transaction, 19½ per centum of the fair market value of such coal at the time of such disposal or sale. In the case of any producer who is a code member as provided in section 4 and is so certified to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue by the Commission, the sale or disposal by such producer during the continuance of his membership in the code of coal produced by him shall be exempt from the tax imposed by this subsection.

BITUMINOUS COAL CODE

Commission to promulgate provisions.

SEC. 4. The provisions of this section shall be promulgated by the Commission as the "Bituminous Coal Code", and are herein referred to as the code.

Code members construed.

Producers accepting membership in the code as provided in section 5 (a) shall be, and are herein referred to as, code members, and the provisions of such code shall apply only to such code members, except as otherwise provided by subsection (h) of part II of this section.

Conditions, provisions, and obligations.

For the purpose of carrying out the declared policy of this Act, the code shall contain the following conditions and provisions, which are intended to regulate interstate commerce in bituminous coal and which shall be applicable only to matters and transactions in or directly affecting interstate commerce in bituminous coal:

Organization.

PART I—ORGANIZATION

District boards of code members; number.

Board membership.

(a) Twenty-three district boards of code members shall be organized. Each district board shall consist of not less than three nor more than seventeen members. The number of members of the district board shall, subject to the approval of the Commission, be determined by the majority vote of the district tonnage during the calendar year 1936 represented at a meeting of the code members of the district called for the purpose of such determination and for the election of such district board; and all code members within the district shall be given notice of the time and place of the meeting. All but one of the members of the district board shall be code members or representatives of code members truly representative of all the mines of the district. The number of such producer members shall be an even number. One-half of such producer members shall be elected by the majority in number of the code members of the district represented at the aforesaid meeting. The other producer members shall be elected by votes cast in the proportion of the annual tonnage output of the code members in the district, for the calendar year preceding the date of the election: Provided, That not more than one officer or employee of any code member within a district shall be a member of the district board at the same time. The remaining member of each district board shall be selected by the organization of employees representing the preponderant number of employees in the industry of the district in question. The term of district board members shall be two years and until their successors are elected. The Commission shall have power to remove any member of any district board upon its finding, after due notice and hearing, that said member is guilty of inefficiency, willful neglect of duty, or malfeasance in office.

Notice of meeting.

District board, composition, etc.

Proviso.
Restriction.

Employee representative.

Term of board members.

Removals.

Powers of district boards.

The district boards shall have power to adopt bylaws and rules of procedure, subject to approval of the Commission, and to appoint officers from within or without their own membership, to fix their terms and compensation, to provide for reports, and to employ such committees, employees, arbitrators, and other persons necessary to effectuate their purposes. Members of the district board shall serve, as such, without compensation but may be reimbursed for their reasonable expenses. The territorial boundaries or limits of the twenty-three districts are set forth in the schedule entitled "Schedule of Districts" and annexed to this Act.

Whenever the Commission upon investigation instituted upon its own motion or upon petition of any code member, district board, State or political subdivision thereof, or the consumers' counsel, after hearing finds that the territorial boundaries or limits of any district or minimum-price area are such as to make it substantially impracticable to establish minimum prices in accordance with all the standards set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of part II of this section, and that a change in such territorial boundaries or limits or a division or consolidation of such districts or minimum-price areas would render the establishment of minimum prices in accordance with all such standards more practicable, it shall by order make such changes, divisions, and consolidations as it finds will substantially aid in such establishment of minimum prices.

(b) The expense of administering the code by the respective district boards shall be borne by the code members in the respective districts, each paying his proportionate share, as assessed, computed on a tonnage basis, in accordance with regulations prescribed by such boards with the approval of the Commission. Such assessments may be collected by the district board by action in any court of competent jurisdiction.

(c) Nothing contained in this Act shall constitute the members of a district board partners for any purpose. Nor shall any member of a district board or officer thereof be liable in any manner to anyone for any act of any other member, officer, agent, or employee of the district board. Nor shall any member or officer of a district board, exercising reasonable diligence in the conduct of his duties under this Act, be liable to anyone for any action or omission to act under this Act except for his own willful misfeasance or for nonfeasance involving moral turpitude.

(d) No action complying with the provisions of this section taken while this Act is in effect, or within sixty days thereafter, by any code member or by any district board, or officer thereof, shall be construed to be within the prohibitions of the antitrust laws of the United States.

PART II—MARKETING

The Commission shall have power to prescribe for code members minimum and maximum prices, and marketing rules and regulations, as follows:

(a) All code members shall report all spot orders to such statistical bureau hereinafter provided for as may be designated by the Commission and shall file with it copies of all contracts for the sale of coal, copies of all invoices, copies of all credit memoranda, and such other information concerning the preparation, cost, sale, and distribution of coal as the Commission may authorize or require. All such records shall be held by the statistical bureau as the confidential records of the code member filing such information.

For each district there shall be established by the Commission a statistical bureau which shall be operated and maintained as an agency of the Commission. Each statistical bureau shall be under the direction of a manager, who shall be appointed by the Commission. Minimum price proposals.

Each district board shall, from time to time on its own motion or when directed by the Commission, propose minimum prices free on board transportation facilities at the mines for kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal produced in said district, and classification of coal and price variations as to mines, consuming market areas, values as to uses and seasonal demand. Said prices shall be proposed so as to yield a return per net ton for each district in a minimum price area, as such districts are identified and such area is defined in the subjoined table designated "minimum-price-area table", equal as nearly as may be to the weighted average of the total costs, per net ton, determined as hereinafter provided, of the tonnage of such minimum price area. The computation of the total costs shall include the cost of labor, supplies, power, taxes, insurance, workmen's compensation, royalties, depreciation and depletion (as determined by the Bureau of Internal Revenue in the computation of the Federal income tax) and all other direct expenses of production, coal operators' association dues, district board assessments for Board operating expenses only levied under the code, and reasonable costs of selling and the cost of administration.

Area 10: Washington and Alaska, district 23.

Factors in determining minimum prices.

The minimum prices so proposed shall reflect, as nearly as possible, the relative market value of the various kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal, shall be just and equitable as between producers within the district, and shall have due regard to the interests of the consuming public. The procedure for proposal of minimum prices shall be in accordance with rules and regulations to be approved by the Commission.

Submission of schedule of proposed prices to Commission.

A schedule of such proposed minimum prices, together with the data upon which they are computed, including, but without limitation, the factors considered in determining the price relationship, shall be submitted by the district board to the Commission, which may approve, disapprove, or modify such proposed minimum prices to conform to the requirements of this subsection, which shall serve as the basis for the coordination provided for in the succeeding subsection (b): Provided, That all minimum prices proposed for any kind, quality, or size of coal for shipment into any consuming market area shall be just and equitable as between producers within the district: And provided further, That no minimum price shall be proposed that permits dumping.

Provisos. Requirements of minimum prices.

As soon as possible after its creation, each district board shall determine, from cost data submitted by the proper statistical bureau of the Commission, the weighted average of the total costs of the ascertainable tonnage produced in the district in the calendar year 1936. The district board shall adjust the average costs so determined, as may be necessary to give effect to any changes in wage rates, hours of employment, or other factors substantially affecting costs, exclusive of seasonal changes, so as to reflect as accurately as possible any change or changes which may have been established since January 1, 1936. Such determination and the computations upon which it is based shall be promptly submitted to the Commission by each district board in the respective minimum-price area. The Commission shall thereupon determine the weighted average of the total costs of the tonnage for each minimum-price area in the calendar year 1936, adjusted as aforesaid, and transmit it to all the district boards within such minimum-price area. Said weighted average of the total costs shall be taken as the basis, to be effective until changed by the Commission, for the proposal and establishment of minimum prices. Thereafter, upon satisfactory proof made at any time by any district board of a change in excess of 2 cents per net ton of two thousand pounds in the weighted average of the total costs in the minimum-price area, exclusive of seasonal changes, the Commission shall increase or decrease the minimum prices accordingly. The weighted average figures of total cost determined as aforesaid shall be available to the public.

Each district board shall, on its own motion or when directed by the Commission, propose reasonable rules and regulations incidental to the sale and distribution, by code members within the district, of coal. Such rules and regulations shall not be inconsistent with the requirements of this section and shall conform to the standards of fair competition hereinafter established. Such rules and regulations shall be submitted by the district board to the Commission with a statement of the reasons therefor, and the Commission may approve, disapprove, or modify the same, for the purpose of coordination.

(b) District boards shall, under rules and regulations established by the Commission, coordinate in common consuming market areas upon a fair competitive basis the minimum prices and the rules and regulations proposed by them, respectively, under subsection (a) hereof. Such coordination, among other factors, but without limitation, shall take into account the various kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal, and transportation charges upon coal. All minimum prices proposed for any kind, quality, or size of coal for shipment into any common consuming market area shall be just and equitable, and not unduly prejudicial or preferential, as between and among districts, shall reflect, as nearly as possible, the relative market values, at points of delivery in each common consuming market area, of the various kinds, qualities, and sizes of coal produced in the various districts, taking into account values as to uses, seasonal demand, transportation methods and charges and their effect upon a reasonable opportunity to compete on a fair basis, and the competitive relationships between coal and other forms of fuel and energy; and shall preserve as nearly as may be existing fair competitive opportunities. The minimum prices proposed as a result of such coordination shall not, as to any district, reduce or increase the return per net ton upon all the coal produced therein below or above the minimum return as provided in subsection (a) of this section by an amount greater than necessary to accomplish such coordination, to the end that the return per net ton upon the entire tonnage of the minimum price area shall approximate the weighted average of the total cost per net ton of the tonnage of such minimum price area. Such coordinated prices and rules and regulations, together with the data upon which they are predicated, shall be submitted to the Commission. The Commission shall thereupon establish, and from time to time, upon complaint or upon its own motion, review and revise the effective minimum prices and rules and regulations in accordance with the standards set forth in subsections (a) and (b) of part II of this section.

(c) When, in the public interest, the Commission deems it necessary to establish maximum prices for coal in order to protect the consumer of coal against unreasonably high prices therefor, the Commission shall have the power to establish maximum prices free on board transportation facilities for coal in any district. Such maximum prices shall be established at a uniform increase above the minimum prices in effect within the district at the time, so that in the aggregate the maximum prices shall yield a reasonable return above the weighted average total cost of the district: Provided, That no maximum price shall be established for any mine which shall not yield a fair return on the fair value of the property.

(d) If any code member or district board or member thereof, or any State or political subdivision of a State, or the consumers' counsel, shall be dissatisfied with such coordination of prices or rules and regulations, or by a failure to establish such coordination of prices or rules and regulations, or by any minimum or maximum prices established pursuant to subsections (b) or (c) of part II of this section, he or it shall have the right, by petition, to make complaint to the Commission, and the Commission shall, under rules and regulations established by it, and after notice and hearing, make such order as may be required to effectuate the purpose of subsections (b) and (c) of part II of this section. Pending final disposition of such petition, and upon reasonable showing of necessity therefor, the Commission may make such preliminary or temporary order as in its judgment may be appropriate, and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act.

(e) No coal subject to the provisions of this section shall be sold or delivered or offered for sale at a price below the minimum or above the maximum therefor established by the Commission, and the sale or delivery or offer for sale of coal at a price below such minimum or above such maximum shall constitute a violation of the code: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to a lawful and bona fide written contract entered into prior to June 16, 1933.

The making of a contract for the sale of coal at a price below the minimum or above the maximum therefor established by the Commission at the time of the making of the contract shall constitute a violation of the code, and such contract shall be invalid and unenforceable.

From and after the date of approval of this Act, until prices shall have been established pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of part II of this section, no contract for the sale of coal shall be made providing for delivery for a period longer than thirty days from the date of the contract.

No contract shall be made for the sale of coal for delivery after the expiration date of this Act at a price below the minimum or above the maximum therefor established by the Commission, and in effect at the time of making the contract.

The minimum prices established in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not apply to coal sold and shipped outside the domestic market. The domestic market shall include all points within the continental United States and Canada, and car-ferry shipments to the island of Cuba. Bunker coal delivered to steamships for consumption thereon shall be regarded as shipped within the domestic market. Maximum prices established in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not apply to coal sold and shipped outside the continental United States.

(f) All data, reports, and other information in the possession of any agency of the United States in relation to coal shall be available to the Commission and to the office of the consumers' counsel for the administration of this Act.

(g) The price provisions of this Act shall not be evaded or violated by or through the use of docks or other storage facilities or transportation facilities, or by or through the use of subsidiaries, affiliated sales or transportation companies or other intermediaries or instrumentalities, or by or through the absorption, directly or indirectly, of any transportation or incidental charge of whatsoever kind or character, or any part thereof. The Commission is hereby authorized, after investigation and hearing, and upon notice to the interested parties, to make and issue rules and regulations to make this subsection effective.

(h) The Commission shall, by order, prescribe due and reasonable maximum discounts or price allowances that may be made by code members to persons (whether or not code members), herein referred to as "distributors", who purchase coal for resale and resell it in not less than cargo or railroad carload lots; and shall require the maintenance and observance by such persons, in the resale of such coal, of the prices and marketing rules and regulations established under this section.

UNFAIR METHODS OF COMPETITION

(i) The following practices with respect to coal shall be unfair methods of competition and shall constitute violations of the code:

1. The consignment of unordered coal, or the forwarding of coal which has not actually been sold, consigned to the producer or his agent: Provided, however, That coal which has not actually been sold may be forwarded, consigned to the producer or his agent at rail or track yards, tidewater ports, river ports, or lake ports, or docks beyond such ports, when for application to any of the following classes: Bunker coal, coal applicable against existing contracts, coal for storage (other than in railroad cars) by the producer or his agent in rail or track yards or on docks, wharves, or other yards for resale by the producer or his agent.

2. The adjustment of claims with purchasers of coal in such manner as to grant secret allowances, secret rebates, or secret concessions, or other price discrimination.

3. The prepayment of freight charges with intent to or having the effect of granting a discriminatory credit allowance.

4. The granting in any form of adjustments, allowances, discounts, credits, or refunds to purchasers or sellers of coal, for the purposes or with the effect of altering retroactively a price previously agreed upon, in such manner as to create price discrimination.

5. The predating or postdating of any invoice or contract for the purchase or sale of coal, except to conform to a bona-fide agreement for the purchase or sale entered into on the predate.

7. The attempt to purchase business, or to obtain information concerning a competitor's business by concession, gifts, or bribes.

Misrepresenting character, etc., of coal.

8. The intentional misrepresentation of any analysis or of analyses, or of sizes, or the intentional making, causing, or permitting to be made, or publishing, of any false, untrue, misleading, or deceptive statement by way of advertising, invoicing, or otherwise concerning the size, quality, character, nature, preparation, or origin of any coal bought, sold, or consigned.

13. Employing any person or appointing any sales agent, at a compensation obviously disproportionate to the ordinary value of the service or services rendered, and whose employment or appointment is made with the primary intention and purpose of securing preferment with a purchaser or purchasers of coal.

Sales through farmers' cooperative organizations.

It shall not be an unfair method of competition or a violation of the code or any requirement of this Act (1) to sell to or through any bona-fide and legitimate farmers' cooperative organization duly organized under the laws of any State, Territory, the District of Columbia, or the United States whether or not such organization grants rebates, discounts, patronage dividends, or other similar benefits to its members; (2) to sell through any intervening agency to any such cooperative organization; or (3) to pay or allow to any such cooperative organization or to any such intervening agency any discount, commission, rebate, or dividend ordinarily paid or allowed, or permitted by the code to be paid or allowed, to other purchasers for purchases in wholesale or middleman quantities.

Sales through an intervening, etc., agency.

Jurisdiction of Commission over code violations.

(j) The Commission shall have jurisdiction to hear and determine written complaints made by any code member, district board, or member thereof, State or political subdivision of a State, or the consumers' counsel, which charge any violation of the code specified in part II of this section. It shall make and publish rules and regulations for the consideration and hearing of any such complaint, and all interested parties shall be required to conform thereto. The Commission shall make due effort toward adjustment of such complaints and shall endeavor to compose the differences of the parties, and shall make such order or orders in the premises, from time to time, as the facts and the circumstances warrant. Any such order shall be subject to review as are other orders of the Commission.

(k) In the investigation of any complaint or violation of the code, or of any rule or regulation the observance of which is required under the terms thereof, the Commission shall have power by order to require such reports from, and shall be given access to inspect the books and records of, code members to the extent deemed necessary for the purpose of determining the complaint. Any such order shall be subject to review as are other orders of the Commission.

(l) The provisions of this section shall not apply to coal consumed by the producer or to coal transported by the producer to himself for consumption by him.

SEC. 4-A. Whenever the Commission upon investigation instituted upon its own motion or upon petition of any code member, district board, State or political subdivision thereof, or the consumers' counsel, after hearing finds that transactions in coal in intrastate commerce by any person or in any locality cause any undue or unreasonable advantage, preference, or prejudice as between persons and localities in such commerce on the one hand and interstate commerce in coal on the other hand, or any undue, unreasonable, or unjust discrimination against interstate commerce in coal, or in any manner directly affect interstate commerce in coal, the Commission shall by order so declare and thereafter coal sold, delivered or offered for sale in such intrastate commerce shall be subject to the provisions of section 4.

Any producer believing that any commerce in coal is not subject to the provisions of section 4 or to the provisions of the first paragraph of this section may file with the Commission an application, verified by oath or affirmation for exemption, setting forth the facts upon which such claim is based. The filing of such application in good faith shall exempt the applicant, beginning with the third day following the filing of the application, from any obligation, duty, or liability imposed by section 4 with respect to the commerce covered by the application until such time as the Commission shall act upon the application. If the Commission has reason to believe that such exemption during the period prior to action upon the application is likely to permit evasion of the Act with respect to commerce in coal properly subject to the provisions of section 4 or of the first paragraph of this section, it may suspend the exemption for a period not to exceed ten days. Within a reasonable time after the receipt of any application for exemption the Commission shall enter an order granting, or, after notice and opportunity for hearing, denying or otherwise disposing of such application. As a condition to the entry of and as a part of any order granting such application, the Commission may require the applicant to apply periodically for renewals of such order and to file such periodic reports as the Commission may find necessary or appropriate to enable it to determine whether the conditions supporting the exemption continue to exist. Any applicant aggrieved by an order denying or otherwise disposing of an application for exemption by the Commission may obtain a review of such order in the manner provided in subsection (b) of section 6.

(b) The membership of any such coal producer in such code and his right to an exemption from the taxes imposed by section 3 (b) of this Act, may be revoked by the Commission upon written complaint by any code member or district board, or any State or political subdivision of a State, or the consumers' counsel, after a hearing, with thirty days' written notice to the member, upon proof that such member has willfully violated any provision of the code or any regulation made thereunder; and in such a hearing any code member or district board, or any State or political subdivision of a State, or the consumers' counsel, or any consumer or employee, and the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, shall be entitled to present evidence and be heard: Provided, That the Commission, in its discretion, may in such case make an order directing the code member to cease and desist from violations of the code and regulations made thereunder and upon failure of the code member to comply with such order the Commission may apply to a circuit court of appeals to enforce such order in accordance with the provisions of subsection (c) of section 6 or may reopen the case upon ten days' notice to the code member affected and proceed in the hearing thereof as above provided.

The Commission shall keep a record of the evidence heard by it in any proceeding to cancel or revoke the membership of any code member and its findings of fact, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive upon any proceeding to review the action and order of the Commission in any court of the United States.

In making an order revoking membership in the code as in this subsection provided, the Commission shall specifically find (1) the day or days on which the violations occurred; (2) the quantity of coal sold or otherwise disposed of in violation of the code or regulations thereunder; (3) the sales price at the mine or the market value at the mine if disposed of otherwise than by sale at the mine, or if sold otherwise than through an arms' length transaction, of the coal sold or otherwise disposed of by such code member in violation of the code or regulations thereunder; (4) the minimum price established by the Commission for such coal and in effect at the time of such sale or other disposal; (5) the amount of tax required to be paid by the code member as a condition to reinstatement to membership in the code as in subsection (c) hereof provided.

(c) Any producer whose membership in the code and whose right to an exemption from the tax imposed by section 3 (b) of this Act shall have been revoked and canceled may apply to the Commission and shall have the right to have his membership in the code restored upon payment by him to the United States of double the amount of the tax provided in section 3 (b) upon the sales price at the mine, or the market value at the mine if disposed of otherwise than by sale at the mine, or if sold otherwise than through an arms' length transaction, of the coal sold or disposed of by the code member in violation of the code or regulations thereunder (but in no case shall such sales price or market value be taken to be less than the minimum price established by the Commission for such coal and in effect at the time of such sale or other disposal), as found by the Commission under subsection (b) hereof. The Commission shall thereupon certify to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and to the collector of internal revenue for the internal revenue collection district in which the producer resides the amount of the required payment as found under clause (5) of subsection (b), and upon payment of such amount to the Commissioner or the collector such officer shall notify the Commission thereof.

(d) Any code member who shall be injured in his business or property by any other code member by reason of the doing of any act which is forbidden or the failure to do any act which is required by this Act or by the code or any regulation made thereunder, may sue therefor in any court of competent jurisdiction where the defendant resides, or is found or has an agent or a place of business, without respect to the amount in controversy, and shall recover threefold damages by him sustained, and the cost of suit, including a reasonable attorney's fee.

SEC. 6. (a) All rules, regulations, determinations, and promulgations of any district board shall be subject to review by the Commission upon appeal by any producer and upon just cause shown shall be amenable to the order of the Commission; and appeal to the Commission shall be a matter of right in all cases to every producer and to all parties in interest, including any State or any political subdivision thereof. In the event that a district board shall fail, for any reason, to take action authorized or required by this Act, then the Commission may take such action in lieu of the district board. The Commission may also provide rules for the determination of controversies arising under this Act by voluntary submission thereof to arbitration, which determination shall be final and conclusive.

(b) Any person aggrieved by an order issued by the Commission in a proceeding to which such person is a party may obtain a review of such order in the Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States, within any circuit wherein such person resides or has his principal place of business, or in the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, by filing in such court, within sixty days after the entry of such order, a written petition praying that the order of the Commission be modified or set aside in whole or in part. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith served upon any member of the Commission and thereupon the Commission shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the record upon which the order complained of was entered. Upon the filing of such transcript such court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to affirm, modify, and enforce or set aside such order, in whole or in part. No objection to the order of the Commission shall be considered by the court unless such objection shall have been urged below. The finding of the Commission as to the facts, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for failure to adduce such evidence in the hearing before the Commission, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the Commission and to be adduced upon the hearing in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper. The Commission may modify its findings as to the facts, by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive, and its recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of the original order. The judgment and decree of the court, affirming, modifying, and enforcing or setting aside, in whole or in part, any such order of the Commission shall be final, subject to review by the Supreme Court of the United States upon certiorari or certification as provided in sections 239 and 240 of the Judicial Code, as amended (U. S. C., title 28, secs. 346 and 347).

(c) If any code member fails or neglects to obey any order of the Commission while the same is in effect, the Commission in its discretion may apply to the Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States within any circuit where such code member resides or carries on business, for the enforcement of its order, and shall certify and file with its application a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including all the testimony taken and the report and order of the Commission. Upon such filing of the application and transcript the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon such code member and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, and shall have power to make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree affirming, modifying, or setting aside the order of the Commission. The findings of the Commission as to facts, if supported by substantial evidence, shall be conclusive. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence, and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the proceeding before the Commission, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the Commission and to be adduced upon the hearing in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as to the court may seem proper.

The Commission may modify its findings as to the facts or make new findings, by reason of the additional evidence so taken, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which if supported by substantial evidence shall be conclusive, and its recommendation, if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order, with the return of such additional evidence. The judgment and decree of the court shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review by the Supreme Court upon certiorari or certification as provided in sections 239 and 240 of the Judicial Code, as amended (U. S. C., title 28, secs. 346 and 347).

(d) The jurisdiction of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States or the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, as the case may be, to enforce, set aside, or modify orders of the Commission shall be exclusive.

SEC. 7. All provisions of law, including penalties and refunds, applicable in respect of the taxes imposed by Title IV of the Revenue Act of 1932, as amended, shall, insofar as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, be applicable with respect to taxes imposed under this Act.

SEC. 8. (a) The members of the Commission are authorized to administer oaths to witnesses appearing before the Commission and to authorize the taking of depositions in any proceedings; and, for the purpose of conducting its investigations, said Commission shall have full power to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, which shall be as nearly as may be in the form of subpoenas issued by district courts of the United States. In case of contumacy by or refusal to obey a subpoena issued to, any person, the Commission may invoke the aid of any court of the United States within the jurisdiction of which such investigation or proceeding is carried on, or where such person resides or carries on business, in requiring the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records. Upon the filing of the application for such aid with the clerk of the court the court shall, either in term time or vacation, forthwith enter an order of record, requiring such person to appear before such court at a time stated in the order not more than ten days from the entry of the order (unless for good cause shown such time is extended), and show cause why he should not be required to obey such subpoena, and upon his failure to show cause it shall be the duty of the court to order such witness to appear before the said Commission and give such testimony or produce such evidence as may be lawfully required by said Commission. The district court, either in term time or vacation, shall have full power to punish for contempt as in other cases of refusal to obey the process and order of such court. Witnesses summoned before the Commission or when depositions are taken upon order of the Commission, shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States, and officers taking such depositions shall be paid the same fees as are paid for like services in courts of the United States.

Lesquels, après avoir déposé leurs Pleins Pouvoirs trouvés en bonne et due forme, ont convenu ce qui suit:

Article I.—Tous les ans, chaque Gouvernement concèdera à deux étudiants diplômés ou instituteurs de chacun des autres pays, désignés conformément au procédé établi par l'article II de la présente Convention, une bourse pour l'année scolaire suivante. Les bourses seront accordées après que les deux Gouvernements intéressés aient échangé les listes visées à l'article II de la présente Convention. Chaque bourse donnera droit à la matricule, au subside et à la pension dans une institution d'enseignement supérieur désignée par le pays qui concède la bourse, par l'intermédiaire de l'organe qu'il considérera approprié et, dans la mesure du possible, en coopération avec le bénéficiaire. Les frais de voyage (aller et retour) au pays où se trouvera l'institution désignée et tous autres frais, seront à la charge du bénéficiaire ou du Gouvernement qui l'aura désigné. Chaque Gouvernement convient d'encourager, par des moyens appropriés, l'échange d'étudiants et d'instituteurs pendant les périodes normales de vacances, entre les institutions de son propre territoire et celles des autres pays contractants.

Article II.—Chaque Gouvernement aura la faculté de préparer et de remettre à chacun des autres Gouvernements, au plus tard à la date établie par le tableau final de cet article, une liste de cinq étudiants diplômés ou d'instituteurs, ainsi que les renseignements concernant leurs personnes, qu'il jugera nécessaires. Ces derniers choisiront deux noms sur ladite liste. Les mêmes étudiants ne pourront pas être désignés pendant plus de deux ans consécutifs, et, sauf dans les cas exceptionnels, pour plus d'un an. Aucun pays ne sera obligé de prendre en considération la liste d'un autre pays si elle n'a pas été établie et présentée antérieurement à la date fixée à la fin du présent article, et les bourses pour lesquelles n'aurait pas été présentée une liste antérieurement à la date établie, pourront être concédées aux personnes indiquées sur les listes de n'importe quel autre pays, qui n'aurait pas eu de bourse.

Sauf dans le cas où les pays intéressés en conviendraient autrement, les dates suivantes régiront: pays de l'Amérique du Sud: 30 Novembre; autres pays: 31 Mars.

Article III.—Si pour n'importe quel motif il était nécessaire de rapatrier un étudiant, le Gouvernement qui accorde la bourse pourrait effectuer le rapatriement pour compte du Gouvernement qui avait désigné l'étudiant.

Article IV.—Chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes enverra aux autres, par la voie diplomatique, le premier Janvier, tous les deux ans, une liste complète des professeurs reconnus des principales universités, institutions scientifiques et écoles techniques de chaque pays, qui puissent être désignés pour un échange de services. Chacune des Hautes Parties Contractantes disposera qu'il soit choisi sur ladite liste un professeur visiteur qui dictera des conférences dans divers centres, ou expliquera des cours réguliers d'études ou fera des investigations spéciales à l'institution que l'on désignera, et de toute autre façon appropriée, encouragera la bonne entente entre les Parties qui coopèrent; il doit être entendu cependant, que l'on donnera la préférence à l'oeuvre d'enseignement plutôt qu'à celle d'investigation. Le Gouvernement qui envoie le professeur visiteur paiera ses frais de voyage (aller et retour) jusqu'à la ville où il résidera ainsi que les frais d'entretien et de voyages locaux pendant que le professeur remplira les fonctions pour lesquelles il a été désigné. Le traitement des professeurs sera payé par le pays qui les enverra.

Article V.—Les Hautes Parties Contractantes conviennent que chaque Gouvernement désignera ou créera un organe approprié, ou désignera un fonctionnaire spécial qui aura la responsabilité de mettre en pratique, de la façon la plus efficace possible, les obligations assumées par ce Gouvernement, en vertu de cette Convention.

Article VI.—Rien dans cette Convention ne sera interprété par les Hautes Parties Contractantes comme une obligation pour aucune d'entre elles de porter atteinte à l'indépendance de ses institutions pédagogiques ou à sa liberté académique et administrative.

Article VII.—Dans chacun des pays contractants et par l'intermédiaire de l'organe que l'on jugera approprié, on établira des règlements relatifs aux détails qui seraient jugés nécessaires, et, avec l'anticipation voulue, on fournira des copies de ces règlements par la voie diplomatique, aux Gouvernements des autres Hautes Parties Contractantes.

Article VIII.—La présente Convention n'affecte pas les engagements contractés antérieurement par les Hautes Parties Contractantes, en vertu d'accords internationaux.

Article IX.—La présente Convention sera ratifiée par les Hautes Parties Contractantes conformément à leurs procédures constitutionnelles. Le Ministère des Affaires Etrangères de la République Argentine conservera les originaux de la présente Convention et est chargé d'en envoyer des copies certifiées authentiques aux Gouvernements. Les instruments de ratification seront déposés aux archives de l'Union Panaméricaine, à Washington, qui fera part de ce dépôt aux Gouvernements signataires; cette notification équivaldra à l'échange des ratifications.

Article X.—La présente Convention entrera en vigueur entre les Hautes Parties Contractantes suivant l'ordre où elles déposeront leurs respectives ratifications.

Article XI.—La présente Convention restera indéfiniment la vigueur, mais pourra être dénoncée moyennant un préavis d'un an à l'Union Panaméricaine qui le transmettra aux autres Gouvernements signataires.

Une fois ce délai écoulé, les effets de la Convention cesseront en ce qui concerne le dénonciateur et elle restera en vigueur pour les autres Hautes Parties Contractantes.

En foi de quoi, les Plénipotentiaires indiqués ci-après, signent et scellent la présente Convention, en espagnol, en anglais, en portugais et en français, dans la ville de Buenos Aires, Capitale de la République Argentine, ce 23 Décembre 1936.

Lesquels, à ce dûment autorisés, sont convenus de ce qui suit:

ARTICLE PREMIER.

Dans la présente Convention les mots suivants sont employés dans le sens précis indiqué ci-dessous:

(a) «Transporteur» comprend le propriétaire du navire ou l'affréteur, partie à un contrat de transport avec un chargeur.

(b) «Contrat de transport» s'applique uniquement au contrat de transport constaté par un connaissement ou par tout document similaire formant titre pour le transport des marchandises par mer; il s'applique également au connaissement ou document similaire émis en vertu d'une charte-partie à partir du moment où ce titre régit les rapports du transporteur et du porteur du connaissement.

(c) «Marchandises» comprend biens, objets, marchandises et articles de nature quelconque, à l'exception des animaux vivants et de la cargaison qui, par le contrat de transport, est déclarée comme mise sur le pont et, en fait, est ainsi transportée.

(d) «Navire» signifie tout bâtiment employé pour le transport des marchandises par mer.

(e) «Transport de marchandises» couvre le temps écoulé depuis le chargement des marchandises à bord du navire jusqu'à leur déchargement du navire.

ARTICLE 2.

Sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 6, le transporteur dans tous les contrats de transport des marchandises par mer sera, quant au chargement, à la manutention, à l'arrimage, au transport, à la garde, aux soins et au déchargement des dites marchandises, soumis aux responsabilités et obligations, comme il bénéficiera des droits et exonérations ci-dessous énoncés.

ARTICLE 3.

1. Le transporteur sera tenu avant et au début du voyage d'exercer une diligence raisonnable pour:

- (a) Mettre le navire en état de navigabilité;
- (b) Convenablement armer, équiper et approvisionner le navire;
- (c) Approprier et mettre en bon état les cales, chambres froides et frigorifiques et toutes autres parties du navire où des marchandises sont chargées pour leur réception, transport et conservation.

2. Le transporteur, sous réserve des dispositions de l'article 4, procédera de façon appropriée et soigneuse au chargement, à la manutention, à l'arrimage, au transport, à la garde, aux soins et au déchargement des marchandises transportées.

3. Après avoir reçu et pris en charge les marchandises, le transporteur ou le capitaine ou agent du transporteur devra, sur demande du chargeur, délivrer au chargeur un connaissement portant entre autres choses:

(a) Les marques principales nécessaires à l'identification des marchandises telles qu'elles sont fournies par écrit par le chargeur avant que le chargement de ces marchandises ne commence, pourvu que ces marques soient imprimées ou apposées clairement de toute autre façon sur les marchandises non emballées ou sur les caisses ou emballages dans lesquelles les marchandises sont contenues, de telle sorte qu'elles devraient normalement rester lisibles jusqu'à la fin du voyage;

(b) Ou le nombre de colis, ou de pièces, ou la quantité ou le poids, suivant les cas, tels qu'ils sont fournis par écrit par le chargeur;

(c) L'état et le conditionnement apparent des marchandises.

Cependant aucun transporteur, capitaine ou agent du transporteur, ne sera tenu de déclarer ou de mentionner, dans le connaissement des marques, un nombre, une quantité ou un poids, dont il a une raison sérieuse de soupçonner qu'ils ne représentent pas exactement les marchandises actuellement reçues par lui, ou qu'il n'a pas eu des moyens raisonnables de vérifier.

4. Un tel connaissement vaudra présomption, sauf preuve contraire, de la réception par le transporteur des marchandises telles qu'elles y sont décrites conformément au § 3, a), b) et c).

5. Le chargeur sera considéré avoir garanti au transporteur, au moment du chargement, l'exactitude des marques, du nombre, de la quantité et du poids tels qu'ils sont fournis par lui, et le chargeur indemniserà le transporteur de toutes pertes, dommages et dépenses provenant ou résultant d'inexactitudes sur ces points. Le droit du transporteur à pareille indemnité ne limitera d'aucune façon sa responsabilité et ses engagements sous l'empire du contrat de transport vis-à-vis de toute personne autre que le chargeur.

6. A moins qu'un avis des pertes ou dommages et de la nature générale de ces pertes ou dommages ne soit donné par écrit au transporteur ou à son agent au port de déchargement, avant ou au moment de l'enlèvement des marchandises, et de leur remise sous la garde de la personne ayant droit à la délivrance sous l'empire du contrat de transport, cet enlèvement constituera, jusqu'à preuve contraire, une présomption que les marchandises ont été délivrées par le transporteur telles qu'elles sont décrites au connaissement.

Si les pertes ou dommages ne sont pas apparents, l'avis doit être donné dans les trois jours de la délivrance.

Les réserves écrites sont inutiles si l'état de la marchandise a été contradictoirement constaté au moment de la réception.

En tous cas le transporteur et le navire seront déchargés de toute responsabilité pour pertes ou dommages à moins qu'une action ne soit intentée dans l'année de la délivrance des marchandises ou de la date à laquelle elles eussent dû être délivrées.

En cas de perte ou dommage certains ou présumés, le transporteur et le réceptionnaire se donneront réciproquement toutes les facilités raisonnables pour l'inspection de la marchandise et la vérification du nombre de colis.

7. Lorsque les marchandises auront été chargées, le connaissement que délivrera le transporteur, capitaine ou agent du transporteur, au chargeur sera, si le chargeur le demande, un connaissement libellé «Embarqué» pourvu que, si le chargeur a auparavant reçu quelque document donnant droit à ces marchandises, il restitue ce document contre remise d'un connaissement «Embarqué». Le transporteur, le capitaine ou l'agent aura également la faculté d'annoter au port d'embarquement, sur le document remis en premier lieu, le ou les noms du ou des navires sur lesquels les marchandises ont été embarquées et la date ou les dates de l'embarquement, et lorsque ce document sera ainsi annoté, il sera, s'il contient les mentions de l'article 3, § 3, considéré aux fins de cet article comme constituant un connaissement libellé «Embarqué».

8. Toute clause, convention ou accord dans un contrat de transport exonérant le transporteur ou le navire de responsabilité pour perte ou dommage concernant des marchandises provenant de négligence, faute ou manquement aux devoirs ou obligations édictées dans cet article ou atténuant cette responsabilité autrement que ne le prescrit la présente Convention, sera nulle, non avenue et sans effet. Une clause cédant le bénéfice de l'assurance au transporteur ou toute clause semblable sera considérée comme exonérant le transporteur de sa responsabilité.

ARTICLE 4.

1. Ni le transporteur ni le navire ne seront responsables des pertes ou dommages provenant ou résultant de l'état d'innavigabilité, à moins qu'il ne soit imputable à un manque de diligence raisonnable de la part du transporteur à mettre le navire en état de navigabilité ou à assurer au navire un armement, équipement ou approvisionnement convenables, ou à approprier et mettre en bon état les cales, chambres froides et frigorifiques et toutes autres parties du navire où des marchandises sont chargées, de façon qu'elles soient aptes à la réception, au transport et à la préservation des marchandises, le tout conformément aux prescriptions de l'article 3, § 1<sup>er</sup>. Toutes les fois qu'une perte ou un dommage aura résulté de l'innavigabilité, le fardeau de la preuve en ce qui concerne l'exercice de la diligence raisonnable tombera sur le transporteur ou sur toute autre personne se prévalant de l'exonération prévue au présent article.

2. Ni le transporteur ni le navire ne seront responsables pour perte ou dommage résultant ou provenant:

(a) Des actes, négligence ou défaut du capitaine, marin, pilote ou des préposés du transporteur dans la navigation ou dans l'administration du navire;

(b) D'un incendie, à moins qu'il ne soit causé par le fait ou la faute du transporteur;

(c) Des périls, dangers ou accidents de la mer ou d'autres eaux navigables;

(d) D'un « acte de Dieu »;

(e) De faits de guerre;

(f) Du fait d'ennemis publics;

(g) D'un arrêt ou contrainte de prince, autorités ou peuple, ou d'une saisie judiciaire;

(h) D'une restriction de quarantaine;

(i) D'un acte ou d'une omission du chargeur ou propriétaire des marchandises, de son agent ou représentant;

(j) De grèves ou lock-outs ou d'arrêts ou entraves apportés au travail, pour quelque cause que ce soit, partiellement ou complètement;

(k) D'émeutes ou de troubles civils;

(l) D'un sauvetage ou tentative de sauvetage de vies ou de biens en mer;

(m) De la freinte en volume ou en poids ou de toute autre perte ou dommage résultant de vice caché, nature spéciale ou vice propre de la marchandise;

(n) D'une insuffisance d'emballage;

(o) D'une insuffisance ou imperfection de marques;

(p) De vices cachés échappant à une diligence raisonnable;

(q) De toute autre cause ne provenant pas du fait ou de la faute du transporteur ou du fait ou de la faute des agents ou préposés du transporteur, mais le fardeau de la preuve incombera à la personne réclamant le bénéfice de cette exception et il lui appartiendra de montrer que ni la faute personnelle ni le fait du transporteur ni la faute ou le fait des agents ou préposés du transporteur n'ont contribué à la perte ou au dommage.

3. Le chargeur ne sera pas responsable des pertes ou dommages subis par le transporteur ou le navire et qui proviendraient ou résulteraient de toute cause quelconque sans qu'il y ait acte, faute ou négligence du chargeur, de ses agents ou de ses préposés.

4. Aucun déroutement pour sauver ou tenter de sauver des vies ou des biens en mer, ni aucun déroutement raisonnable ne sera considéré comme une infraction à la présente Convention ou au contrat de transport, et le transporteur ne sera responsable d'aucune perte ou dommage en résultant.

5. Le transporteur comme le navire ne seront tenus en aucun cas des pertes ou dommages causés aux marchandises ou les concernant pour une somme dépassant 100 liv. sterl. par colis ou unité, ou l'équivalent de cette somme en une autre monnaie, à moins que la nature et la valeur de ces marchandises n'aient été déclarées par le chargeur avant leur embarquement et que cette déclaration ait été insérée au connaissement.

Cette déclaration ainsi insérée dans le connaissement constituera une présomption, sauf preuve contraire, mais elle ne liera pas le transporteur, qui pourra la contester.

Par convention entre le transporteur, capitaine ou agent du transporteur et le chargeur, une somme maximum différente de celle inscrite dans ce paragraphe peut être déterminée, pourvu que ce maximum conventionnel ne soit pas inférieur au chiffre ci-dessus fixé.

Ni le transporteur ni le navire ne seront en aucun cas responsables pour perte ou dommage causé aux marchandises ou les concernant, si dans le connaissement le chargeur a fait sciemment une déclaration fausse de leur nature ou de leur valeur.

6. Les marchandises de nature inflammable, explosive ou dangereuse, à l'embarquement desquelles le transporteur, le capitaine ou l'agent du transporteur n'auraient pas consenti, en connaissant leur nature ou leur caractère, pourront à tout moment, avant déchargement, être débarquées à tout endroit ou détruites ou rendues inoffensives par le transporteur sans indemnité et le chargeur de ces marchandises sera responsable de tout dommage et dépenses provenant ou résultant directement ou indirectement de leur embarquement. Si quelqu'une de ces marchandises embarquées à la connaissance et avec le consentement du transporteur devenait un danger pour le navire ou la cargaison, elle pourrait de même façon être débarquée ou détruite ou rendue inoffensive par le transporteur, sans responsabilité de la part du transporteur si ce n'est du chef d'avaries communes, s'il y a lieu.

ARTICLE 5.

Un transporteur sera libre d'abandonner tout ou partie de ses droits et exonérations ou d'augmenter ses responsabilités et obligations tels que les uns et les autres sont prévus par la présente Convention, pourvu que cet abandon ou cette augmentation soit inséré dans le connaissement délivré au chargeur.

Aucune disposition de la présente Convention ne s'applique aux chartes-parties; mais si des connaissements sont émis dans le cas d'un navire sous l'empire d'une charte-partie, ils sont soumis aux termes de la présente Convention. Aucune disposition dans ces règles ne sera considérée comme empêchant l'insertion dans un connaissement d'une disposition licite quelconque ou sujet d'avaries communes.

ARTICLE 6.

Nonobstant les dispositions des articles précédents, un transporteur, capitaine ou agent du transporteur et un chargeur seront libres, pour des marchandises déterminées, quelles qu'elles soient, de passer un contrat quelconque avec des conditions quelconques concernant la responsabilité et les obligations du transporteur pour ces marchandises, ainsi que les droits et exonérations du transporteur au sujet de ces mêmes marchandises, ou concernant ses obligations quant à l'état de navigabilité du navire dans la mesure où cette stipulation n'est pas contraire à l'ordre public, ou concernant les soins ou diligence de ses préposés ou agents quant au chargement, à la manutention, à l'arrimage, au transport, à la garde, aux soins et au déchargement des marchandises transportées par mer, pourvu qu'en ce cas aucun connaissement n'ait été ou ne soit émis et que les conditions de l'accord intervenu soient insérées dans un récépissé qui sera un document non négociable et portera mention de ce caractère.

Toute convention ainsi conclue aura plein effet légal.

Il est toutefois convenu que cet article ne s'appliquera pas aux cargaisons commerciales ordinaires, faites au cours d'opérations commerciales ordinaires, mais seulement à d'autres chargements où le caractère et la condition des biens à transporter et les circonstances, les termes et les conditions auxquels le transport doit se faire sont de nature à justifier une convention spéciale.

ARTICLE 7.

Aucune disposition de la présente Convention ne défend à un transporteur ou à un chargeur d'insérer dans un contrat des stipulations, conditions, réserves ou exonérations relatives aux obligations et responsabilités du transporteur ou du navire pour la perte ou les dommages survenant aux marchandises, ou concernant leur garde, soin et manutention, antérieurement au chargement et postérieurement au déchargement du navire sur lequel les marchandises sont transportées par mer.

ARTICLE 8.

Les dispositions de la présente Convention ne modifient ni les droits ni les obligations du transporteur tels qu'ils résultent de toute loi en vigueur en ce moment relativement à la limitation de la responsabilité des propriétaires de navires de mer.

ARTICLE 9.

Les unités monétaires dont il s'agit dans la présente Convention s'entendent valeur or.

Ceux des Etats contractants où la livre sterling n'est pas employée comme unité monétaire se réservent le droit de convertir en chiffres ronds, d'après leur système monétaire, les sommes indiquées en livres sterling dans la présente Convention.

Les lois nationales peuvent réserver au débiteur la faculté de se libérer dans la monnaie nationale, d'après le cours du change au jour de l'arrivée du navire au port de déchargement de la marchandise dont il s'agit.

ARTICLE 10.

Les dispositions de la présente Convention s'appliqueront à tout connaissement créé dans un des Etats contractants.

ARTICLE 11.

A l'expiration du délai de deux ans au plus tard à compter du jour de la signature de la Convention, le Gouvernement belge entrera en rapport avec les Gouvernements des Hautes Parties contractantes qui se seront déclarées prêtes à la ratifier, à l'effet de faire décider s'il y a lieu de la mettre en vigueur. Les ratifications seront déposées à Bruxelles à la date qui sera fixée de commun accord entre les dits Gouvernements. Le premier dépôt de ratifications sera constaté par un procès-verbal signé par les représentants des États qui y prendront part et par le Ministre des Affaires Étrangères de Belgique.

Les dépôts ultérieurs se feront au moyen d'une notification écrite, adressée au Gouvernement belge et accompagnée de l'instrument de ratification.

Copie certifiée conforme au procès-verbal relatif au premier dépôt de ratifications, de notifications mentionnées à l'alinéa précédent, ainsi que des instruments de ratifications qui les accompagnent sera immédiatement, par les soins du Gouvernement belge et par la voie diplomatique, remise aux États qui ont signé la présente Convention ou qui auront adhéré. Dans les cas visés à l'alinéa précédent, ledit Gouvernement fera connaître, en même temps, la date à laquelle il a reçu la notification.

ARTICLE 12.

Les États non signataires pourront adhérer à la présente Convention, qu'ils aient été ou non représentés à la Conférence internationale de Bruxelles.

L'État qui désire adhérer notifie par écrit son intention au Gouvernement belge, en lui transmettant l'acte d'adhésion, qui sera déposé dans les archives du dit Gouvernement.

Le Gouvernement belge transmettra immédiatement à tous les États signataires ou adhérents copie certifiée conforme de la notification ainsi que de l'acte d'adhésion en indiquant la date à laquelle il a reçu la notification.

ARTICLE 13.

Les Hautes Parties contractantes peuvent, au moment de la signature, du dépôt des ratifications ou lors de leur adhésion, déclarer que l'acceptation qu'elles donnent à la présente Convention ne s'applique pas soit à certains soit à aucun des Dominions autonomes, colonies, possessions, protectorats ou territoires d'outre-mer, se trouvant sous leur souveraineté ou autorité. En conséquence, elles peuvent ultérieurement adhérer séparément au nom de l'un ou de l'autre de ces Dominions autonomes, colonies, possessions, protectorats ou territoires d'outre-mer, ainsi exclus dans leur déclaration originale. Elles peuvent aussi, en se conformant à ces dispositions, dénoncer la présente Convention séparément pour l'un ou plusieurs des Dominions autonomes, colonies, possessions, protectorats ou territoires d'outre-mer se trouvant sous leur souveraineté ou autorité.

ARTICLE 14.

A l'égard des États qui auront participé au premier dépôt de ratifications, la présente Convention produira effet un an après la date du procès-verbal de ce dépôt. Quant aux États qui la ratifieront ultérieurement ou qui y adhéreront, ainsi que dans les cas où la mise en vigueur se fera ultérieurement et selon l'article 13, elle produira effet six mois après que les notifications prévues à l'article 11, alinéa 2, et à l'article 12, alinéa 2, auront été reçues par le Gouvernement belge.

ARTICLE 15.

S'il arrivait qu'un des États contractants voulut dénoncer la présente Convention, la dénonciation sera notifiée par écrit au Gouvernement belge, qui communiquera immédiatement copie certifiée conforme de la notification à tous les autres États, en leur faisant savoir la date à laquelle il l'a reçue.

La dénonciation produira ses effets à l'égard de l'État seul qui l'aura notifiée et un an après que la notification en sera parvenue au Gouvernement belge.

ARTICLE 16.

Chaque État contractant aura la faculté de provoquer la réunion d'une nouvelle conférence, dans le but de rechercher les améliorations qui pourraient être apportées à la présente Convention.

Celui des États qui ferait usage de cette faculté aurait à notifier un an à l'avance son intention aux autres États, par l'intermédiaire du Gouvernement belge, qui se chargerait de convoquer la conférence.

Who, duly authorized therefor, have agreed on the following:

ARTICLE 1

In this convention the following words are employed with the meanings set out below:

Definitions.

(a) "Carrier" includes the owner of the vessel or the charterer who enters into a contract of carriage with a shipper.

(b) "Contract of carriage" applies only to contracts of carriage covered by a bill of lading or any similar document of title, insofar as such document relates to the carriage of goods by sea; it also applies to any bill of lading or any similar document as aforesaid issued under or pursuant to a charter party from the moment at which such instrument regulates the relations between a carrier and a holder of the same.

(c) "Goods" includes goods, wares, merchandise, and articles of every kind whatsoever except live animals and cargo which by the contract of carriage is stated as being carried on deck and is so carried.

(d) "Ship" means any vessel used for the carriage of goods by sea.

(e) "Carriage of goods" covers the period from the time when the goods are loaded on to the time they are discharged from the ship.

ARTICLE 2

Subject to the provisions of Article 6 under every contract of carriage of goods by sea the carrier, in relation to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of such goods shall be subject to the responsibilities and liabilities, and entitled to the rights and immunities hereinafter set forth.

Carrier; responsibilities, rights, etc.
Post, p. 252.

ARTICLE 3

1. The carrier shall be bound before and at the beginning of the voyage to exercise due diligence to:—

Duties, before and at beginning of voyage.

(a) Make the ship seaworthy;

(b) Properly man, equip, and supply the ship;

(c) Make the holds, refrigerating and cool chambers, and all other parts of the ship in which goods are carried, fit and safe for their reception, carriage, and preservation.

2. Subject to the provisions of Article 4 the carrier shall properly and carefully load, handle, stow, carry, keep, care for, and discharge the goods carried.

Loading, etc., of goods.
Post, p. 251.

3. After receiving the goods into his charge the carrier or the master or agent of the carrier shall, on demand of the shipper, issue to the shipper a bill of lading showing among other things:

Bill of lading; issuance to shipper.

(a) The leading marks necessary for identification of the goods as the same are furnished in writing by the shipper before the loading of such goods starts, provided such marks are stamped or otherwise shown clearly upon the goods if uncovered, or on the cases or coverings in which such goods are contained, in such a manner as should ordinarily remain legible until the end of the voyage;

(b) Either the number of packages or pieces, or the quantity, or weight, as the case may be, as furnished in writing by the shipper;

Proviso.
Checking goods.

(c) The apparent order and condition of the goods;

Provided that no carrier, master, or agent of the carrier shall be bound to state or show in the bill of lading any marks, number, quantity, or weight which he has reasonable grounds for suspecting not accurately to represent the goods actually received or which he has had no reasonable means of checking.

Evidence of receipt.

4. Such a bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence of the receipt by the carrier of the goods as therein described in accordance with paragraph 3 (a), (b), and (c).

Accuracy of marks, etc.

5. The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the carrier the accuracy at the time of shipment of the marks, number, quantity, and weight, as furnished by him, and the shipper shall indemnify the carrier against all loss, damages, and expenses arising or resulting from inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the carrier to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

Indemnity for error.

Removal to be prima facie evidence of delivery.

6. Unless notice of loss or damage and the general nature of such loss or damage be given in writing to the carrier or his agent at the port of discharge before or at the time of the removal of the goods into the custody of the person entitled to delivery thereof under the contract of carriage, such removal shall be prima facie evidence of the delivery by the carrier of the goods as described in the bill of lading.

Notice of loss when damage not apparent.

If the loss or damage is not apparent, the notice must be given within three days of the delivery.

Exception.

The notice in writing need not be given if the state of the goods has at the time of their receipt been the subject of joint survey or inspection.

Failure to bring suit; discharge of liability.

In any event the carrier and the ship shall be discharged from all liability in respect of loss or damage unless suit is brought within one year after delivery of the goods or the date when the goods should have been delivered.

Mutual rights, in case of loss.

In the case of any actual or apprehended loss or damage the carrier and the receiver shall give all reasonable facilities to each other for inspecting and tallying the goods.

"Shipped" bill of lading.

7. After the goods are loaded the bill of lading to be issued by the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier to the shipper shall, if the shipper so demands, be a "shipped" bill of lading, provided that if the shipper shall have previously taken up any document of title to such goods, he shall surrender the same as against the issue of the "shipped" bill of lading. At the option of the carrier such document of title may be noted at the port of shipment by the carrier, master, or agent with the name or names of the ship or ships upon which the goods have been shipped and the date or dates of shipment, and when so noted, if it shows the particulars mentioned in paragraph 3 of Article 3, it shall for the purpose of this article be deemed to constitute a "shipped" bill of lading.

Covenant relieving from liability for negligence, etc., void.

8. Any clause, covenant, or agreement in a contract of carriage relieving the carrier or the ship from liability for loss or damage to or in connection with goods arising from negligence, fault, or failure in the duties and obligations provided in this article, or lessening such liability otherwise than as provided in this convention, shall be null and void and of no effect. A benefit of insurance in favor of the carrier or similar clause shall be deemed to be a clause relieving the carrier from liability.

ARTICLE 4

1. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be liable for loss or damage arising or resulting from unseaworthiness unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the carrier to make the ship seaworthy and to secure that the ship is properly manned, equipped, and supplied and to make the holds, refrigerating and cool chambers, and all other parts of the ship in which goods are carried fit and safe for their reception, carriage, and preservation in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 1 of Article 3. Whenever loss or damage has resulted from unseaworthiness, the burden of proving the exercise of due diligence shall be on the carrier or other person claiming exemption under this article.

Rights and immunities of carriers.
Loss from unseaworthiness.

Burden of proof.

2. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible for loss or damage arising or resulting from:

(b) Fire, unless caused by the actual fault or privity of the carrier;

(c) Perils, dangers, and accidents of the sea or other navigable waters;

(d) Act of God;

(e) Act of war;

(f) Act of public enemies;

(g) Arrest or restraint of princes, rulers, or people or seizure under legal process;

(h) Quarantine restrictions;

(i) Act or omission of the shipper or owner of the goods, his agent, or representative;

(j) Strikes or lockouts or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, whether partial or general;

(k) Riots and civil commotions;

(l) Saving or attempting to save life or property at sea;

(m) Wastage in bulk or weight or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality, or vice of the goods;

(n) Insufficiency of packing;

(o) Insufficiency or inadequacy of marks;

(p) Latent defects not discoverable by due diligence;

(q) Any other cause arising without the actual fault or privity of the carrier, or without the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier, but the burden of proof shall be on the person claiming the benefit of this exception to show that neither the actual fault or privity of the carrier nor the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier contributed to the loss or damage.

Other causes not fault of carrier.

Burden of proof.

3. The shipper shall not be responsible for loss or damage sustained by the carrier or the ship arising or resulting from any cause without the act, fault, or neglect of the shipper, his agents, or his servants.

Shipper not responsible for damage to carrier without fault.

Certain deviations not breaches.

4. Any deviation in saving or attempting to save life or property at sea or any reasonable deviation shall not be deemed to be an infringement or breach of this convention or of the contract of carriage, and the carrier shall not be liable for any loss or damage resulting therefrom.

Limitation on carrier's liability.

5. Neither the carrier nor the ship shall in any event be or become liable for any loss or damage to or in connection with goods in an amount exceeding 100 pounds sterling per package or unit or the equivalent of that sum in other currency unless the nature and value of such goods have been declared by the shipper before shipment and inserted in the bill of lading.

This declaration if embodied in the bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence but shall not be binding or conclusive on the carrier.

Different maximum by agreement.

By agreement between the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier and the shipper another maximum amount than that mentioned in this paragraph may be fixed, provided that such maximum shall not be less than the figure above named.

Misstatements, effect of.

Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible in any event for loss or damage to, or in connection with, goods if the nature or value thereof has been knowingly misstated by the shipper in the bill of lading.

Inflammable, etc.,
position, etc.

6. Goods of an inflammable, explosive, or dangerous nature to the shipment whereof the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier has not consented with knowledge of their nature and character may at any time before discharge be landed at any place or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without compensation, and the shipper of such goods shall be liable for all damages and expenses directly or indirectly arising out of or resulting from such shipment. If any such goods shipped with such knowledge and consent shall become a danger to the ship or cargo, they may in like manner be landed at any place or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without liability on the part of the carrier except to general average, if any.

ARTICLE 5

Surrender of rights, etc., and increase of responsibilities, etc.

A carrier shall be at liberty to surrender in whole or in part all or any of his rights and immunities, or to increase any of his responsibilities and liabilities under this convention provided such surrender or increase shall be embodied in the bill of lading issued to the shipper.

Inapplicability to charter parties.

The provisions of this convention shall not be applicable to charter parties, but if bills of lading are issued in the case of a ship under a charter-party they shall comply with the terms of this convention. Nothing in these rules shall be held to prevent the insertion in a bill of lading of any lawful provision regarding general average.

ARTICLE 6

Special conditions.
Agreements between carrier and shipper, effect of.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding articles, a carrier, master, or agent of the carrier and a shipper shall in regard to any particular goods be at liberty to enter into any agreement in any terms as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier for such goods, and as to the rights and immunities of the carrier in respect of such goods, or concerning his obligation as to seaworthiness so far as this stipulation is not contrary to public policy, or concerning the care or diligence of his servants or agents in regard to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of the goods carried by sea, provided that in this case no bill of lading has been or shall be issued and that the terms agreed shall be embodied in a receipt which shall be a nonnegotiable document and shall be marked as such.

Any agreement so entered into shall have full legal effect:

Provided that this article shall not apply to ordinary commercial shipments made in the ordinary course of trade, but only to other shipments where the character or condition of the property to be carried or the circumstances, terms, and conditions under which the carriage is to be performed are such as reasonably to justify a special agreement.

*Proviso.

ARTICLE 7

Nothing herein contained shall prevent a carrier or a shipper from entering into any agreement, stipulation, condition, reservation, or exemption as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier or the ship for the loss or damage to, or in connection with, the custody and care and handling of goods prior to the loading on, and subsequent to the discharge from, the ship on which the goods are carried by sea.

Liability for goods prior to loading; after discharge from ship.

owners.*

ARTICLE 9

They may also denounce the convention separately in accordance with its provisions in respect of any self-governing dominion, or any colony, overseas possession, protectorate, or territory under their sovereignty or authority.

Separate accessions.

ARTICLE 14

Effective dates.

The present convention shall take effect, in the case of the States which have taken part in the first deposit of ratifications, one year after the date of the procès-verbal recording such deposit. As respects the States which ratify subsequently or which accede, and also in cases in which the convention is subsequently put into effect in accordance with Article 13, it shall take effect six months after the notifications specified in paragraph 2 of Article 11, and paragraph 2 of Article 12, have been received by the Belgian Government.

ARTICLE 15

In the event of one of the contracting States wishing to denounce the present convention, the denunciation shall be notified in writing to the Belgian Government, which shall immediately communicate a duly certified copy of the notification to all the other States informing them of the date on which it was received.

Denunciation.

The denunciation shall only operate in respect of the State which made the notification, and on the expiry of one year after the notification has reached the Belgian Government.

ARTICLE 16

Any one of the contracting States shall have the right to call for a fresh conference with a view to considering possible amendments.

No. 965

EMBASSY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Brussels, June 26, 1937.

EXCELLENCY,

Notification effecting deposit of ratification of the United States of America.

Acting under instructions from my Government, I have the honor to inform Your Excellency that the United States of America has ratified the convention for the unification of certain rules relating to bills of lading for the carriage of goods by sea and a protocol of signature thereto, dated and opened for signature at Brussels on August 25, 1924, and signed on behalf of the United States of America at Brussels on June 23, 1925.

Subject to designated understandings.

The convention is ratified by the United States of America with two understandings, to which the Senate made its advice and consent subject, namely:

"that notwithstanding the provisions of Article 4, Section 5, and the first paragraph of Article 9 of the convention, neither the carrier nor the ship shall in any event be or become liable within the jurisdiction of the United States of America for any loss or damage to or in connection with goods in an amount exceeding $500.00, lawful money of the United States of America, per package or unit unless the nature and value of such goods have been declared by the shipper before shipment and inserted in the bill of lading"; and

"that should any conflict arise between the provisions of the convention and the provisions of the act of April 16, 1936, known as the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, the provisions of said act shall prevail."

In accordance with the second paragraph of Article 11 of the convention, which provides that ratifications deposited subsequent to the signature of the procès-verbal relating to the first deposit of ratifications shall be made by means of a written notification addressed to Your Excellency's Government and accompanied by the instrument of ratification, I have the honor to transmit herewith the instrument of ratification of the United States of America, signed by the President on May 26, 1937.<sup>1</sup>

There are also enclosed for the information of Your Excellency's Government a copy of the "Carriage of Goods by Sea Act" of 1936,<sup>1</sup> and of a memorandum prepared by my Government showing a comparison between the Act and the Convention.<sup>2</sup> Additional copies of the Act and the memorandum will be made available to Your Excellency at an early date for transmission to the other signatory Governments.

I avail myself of this opportunity to renew to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration.

AN ACT

Relating to the carriage of goods by sea.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That every bill of lading or similar document of title which is evidence of a contract for the carriage of goods by sea to or from ports of the United States, in foreign trade, shall have effect subject to the provisions of this Act.

TITLE I

SECTION 1. When used in this Act—

(a) The term “carrier” includes the owner or the charterer who enters into a contract of carriage with a shipper.

(b) The term "contract of carriage" applies only to contracts of carriage covered by a bill of lading or any similar document of title, insofar as such document relates to the carriage of goods by sea, including any bill of lading or any similar document as aforesaid issued under or pursuant to a charter party from the moment at which such bill of lading or similar document of title regulates the relations between a carrier and a holder of the same.

(c) The term "goods" includes goods, wares, merchandise, and articles of every kind whatsoever, except live animals and cargo which by the contract of carriage is stated as being carried on deck and is so carried.

(d) The term "ship" means any vessel used for the carriage of goods by sea.

(e) The term "carriage of goods" covers the period from the time when the goods are loaded on to the time when they are discharged from the ship.

RISKS

SEC. 2. Subject to the provisions of section 6, under every contract of carriage of goods by sea, the carrier in relation to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of such goods, shall be subject to the responsibilities and liabilities and entitled to the rights and immunities hereinafter set forth.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND LIABILITIES

SEC. 3. (1) The carrier shall be bound, before and at the beginning of the voyage, to exercise due diligence to—

- (a) Make the ship seaworthy;
- (b) Properly man, equip, and supply the ship;
- (c) Make the holds, refrigerating and cooling chambers, and all other parts of the ship in which goods are carried, fit and safe for their reception, carriage, and preservation.

(2) The carrier shall properly and carefully load, handle, stow, carry, keep, care for, and discharge the goods carried.

(3) After receiving the goods into his charge the carrier, or the master or agent of the carrier, shall, on demand of the shipper, issue to the shipper a bill of lading showing among other things—

(a) The leading marks necessary for identification of the goods as the same are furnished in writing by the shipper before the loading of such goods starts, provided such marks are stamped or otherwise shown clearly upon the goods if uncovered, or on the cases or coverings in which such goods are contained, in such a manner as should ordinarily remain legible until the end of the voyage.

(b) Either the number of packages or pieces, or the quantity or weight, as the case may be, as furnished in writing by the shipper.

(c) The apparent order and condition of the goods: Provided, That no carrier, master, or agent of the carrier, shall be bound to state or show in the bill of lading any marks, number, quantity, or weight which he has reasonable ground for suspecting not accurately to represent the goods actually received, or which he has had no reasonable means of checking.

(4) Such a bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence of the receipt by the carrier of the goods as therein described in accordance with paragraphs (3) (a), (b), and (c), of this section: Provided, That nothing in this Act shall be construed as repealing or limiting the application of any part of the Act, as amended, entitled "An Act relating to bills of lading in interstate and foreign commerce", approved August 29, 1916 (U. S. C., title 49, secs. 81-124), commonly known as the "Pomerene Bills of Lading Act."

(5) The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the carrier the accuracy at the time of shipment of the marks, number, quantity, and weight, as furnished by him; and the shipper shall indemnify the carrier against all loss, damages, and expenses arising or resulting from inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the carrier to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper.

(6) Unless notice of loss or damage and the general nature of such loss or damage be given in writing to the carrier or his agent at the port of discharge before or at the time of the removal of the goods into the custody of the person entitled to delivery thereof under the contract of carriage, such removal shall be prima facie evidence of the delivery by the carrier of the goods as described in the bill of lading. If the loss or damage is not apparent, the notice must be given within three days of the delivery.

Said notice of loss or damage may be endorsed upon the receipt for the goods given by the person taking delivery thereof.

The notice in writing need not be given if the state of the goods has at the time of their receipt been the subject of joint survey or inspection.

In any event the carrier and the ship shall be discharged from all liability in respect of loss or damage unless suit is brought within one year after delivery of the goods or the date when the goods should have been delivered: Provided, That if a notice of loss or damage, either apparent or concealed, is not given as provided for in this section, that fact shall not affect or prejudice the right of the shipper to bring suit within one year after the delivery of the goods or the date when the goods should have been delivered.

In the case of any actual or apprehended loss or damage the carrier and the receiver shall give all reasonable facilities to each other for inspecting and tallying the goods.

(7) After the goods are loaded the bill of lading to be issued by the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier to the shipper shall, if the shipper so demands, be a "shipped" bill of lading: Provided, That if the shipper shall have previously taken up any document of title to such goods, he shall surrender the same as against the issue of the "shipped" bill of lading, but at the option of the carrier such document of title may be noted at the port of shipment by the carrier, master, or agent with the name or names of the ship or ships upon which the goods have been shipped and the date or dates of shipment, and when so noted the same shall for the purpose of this section be deemed to constitute a "shipped" bill of lading.

(8) Any clause, covenant, or agreement in a contract of carriage relieving the carrier or the ship from liability for loss or damage to or in connection with the goods, arising from negligence, fault, or failure in the duties and obligations provided in this section, or lessening such liability otherwise than as provided in this Act, shall be null and void and of no effect. A benefit of insurance in favor of the carrier, or similar clause, shall be deemed to be a clause relieving the carrier from liability.

RIGHTS AND IMMUNITIES

SEC. 4. (1) Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be liable for loss or damage arising or resulting from unseaworthiness unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the carrier to make the ship seaworthy, and to secure that the ship is properly manned, equipped, and supplied, and to make the holds, refrigerating and cool chambers, and all other parts of the ship in which goods are carried fit and safe for their reception, carriage, and preservation in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (1) of section 3. Whenever loss or damage has resulted from unseaworthiness, the burden of proving the exercise of due diligence shall be on the carrier or other persons claiming exemption under this section.

(2) Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible for loss or damage arising or resulting from—

(a) Act, neglect, or default of the master, mariner, pilot, or the servants of the carrier in the navigation or in the management of the ship;

(b) Fire, unless caused by the actual fault or privity of the carrier;

(c) Perils, dangers, and accidents of the sea or other navigable waters;

(d) Act of God;

(e) Act of war;

(f) Act of public enemies;

(g) Arrest or restraint of princes, rulers, or people, or seizure under legal process;

(h) Quarantine restrictions;

(i) Act or omission of the shipper or owner of the goods, his agent or representative;

(j) Strikes or lockouts or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, whether partial or general: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve a carrier from responsibility for the carrier's own acts;

(k) Riots and civil commotions;

(l) Saving or attempting to save life or property at sea;

(m) Wastage in bulk or weight or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality, or vice of the goods;

(n) Insufficiency of packing;

- (o) Insufficiency or inadequacy of marks;
- (p) Latent defects not discoverable by due diligence; and
- (q) Any other cause arising without the actual fault and privity of the carrier and without the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier, but the burden of proof shall be on the person claiming the benefit of this exception to show that neither the actual fault or privity of the carrier nor the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier contributed to the loss or damage.

(3) The shipper shall not be responsible for loss or damage sustained by the carrier or the ship arising or resulting from any cause without the act, fault, or neglect of the shipper, his agents, or his servants.

(4) Any deviation in saving or attempting to save life or property at sea, or any reasonable deviation shall not be deemed to be an infringement or breach of this Act or of the contract of carriage, and the carrier shall not be liable for any loss or damage resulting therefrom: Provided, however, That if the deviation is for the purpose of loading or unloading cargo or passengers it shall, prima facie, be regarded as unreasonable.

(5) Neither the carrier nor the ship shall in any event be or become liable for any loss or damage to or in connection with the transportation of goods in an amount exceeding $500 per package lawful money of the United States, or in case of goods not shipped in packages, per customary freight unit, or the equivalent of that sum in other currency, unless the nature and value of such goods have been declared by the shipper before shipment and inserted in the bill of lading. This declaration, if embodied in the bill of lading, shall be prima facie evidence, but shall not be conclusive on the carrier.

By agreement between the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier, and the shipper another maximum amount than that mentioned in this paragraph may be fixed: Provided, That such maximum shall not be less than the figure above named. In no event shall the carrier be liable for more than the amount of damage actually sustained.

Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible in any event for loss or damage to or in connection with the transportation of the goods if the nature or value thereof has been knowingly and fraudulently misstated by the shipper in the bill of lading.

(6) Goods of an inflammable, explosive, or dangerous nature to the shipment whereof the carrier, master or agent of the carrier, has not consented with knowledge of their nature and character, may at any time before discharge be landed at any place or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without compensation, and the shipper of such goods shall be liable for all damages and expenses directly or indirectly arising out of or resulting from such shipment. If any such goods shipped with such knowledge and consent shall become a danger to the ship or cargo, they may in like manner be landed at any place, or destroyed or rendered innocuous by the carrier without liability on the part of the carrier except to general average, if any.

SURRENDER OF RIGHTS AND IMMUNITIES AND INCREASE OF RESPONSIBILITIES AND LIABILITIES

SEC. 5. A carrier shall be at liberty to surrender in whole or in part all or any of his rights and immunities or to increase any of his responsibilities and liabilities under this Act, provided such surrender or increase shall be embodied in the bill of lading issued to the shipper.

The provisions of this Act shall not be applicable to charter parties; but if bills of lading are issued in the case of a ship under a charter party, they shall comply with the terms of this Act. Nothing in this Act shall be held to prevent the insertion in a bill of lading of any lawful provision regarding general average.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

SEC. 6. Notwithstanding the provisions of the preceding sections, a carrier, master or agent of the carrier, and a shipper shall, in regard to any particular goods be at liberty to enter into any agreement in any terms as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier for such goods, and as to the rights and immunities of the carrier in respect of such goods, or his obligation as to seaworthiness (so far as the stipulation regarding seaworthiness is not contrary to public policy), or the care or diligence of his servants or agents in regard to the loading, handling, stowage, carriage, custody, care, and discharge of the goods carried by sea: Provided, That in this case no bill of lading has been or shall be issued and that the terms agreed shall be embodied in a receipt which shall be a nonnegotiable document and shall be marked as such.

Any agreement so entered into shall have full legal effect: Provided, That this section shall not apply to ordinary commercial shipments made in the ordinary course of trade but only to other shipments where the character or condition of the property to be carried or the circumstances, terms, and conditions under which the carriage is to be performed are such as reasonably to justify a special agreement.

SEC. 7. Nothing contained in this Act shall prevent a carrier or a shipper from entering into any agreement, stipulation, condition, reservation, or exemption as to the responsibility and liability of the carrier or the ship for the loss or damage to or in connection with the custody and care and handling of goods prior to the loading on and subsequent to the discharge from the ship on which the goods are carried by sea.

SEC. 8. The provisions of this Act shall not affect the rights and obligations of the carrier under the provisions of the Shipping Act, 1916, or under the provisions of sections 4281 to 4289, inclusive, of the Revised Statutes of the United States, or of any amendments thereto; or under the provisions of any other enactment for the time being in force relating to the limitation of the liability of the owners of seagoing vessels.

TITLE II

SECTION 9. Nothing contained in this Act shall be construed as permitting a common carrier by water to discriminate between competing shippers similarly placed in time and circumstances, either (a) with respect to their right to demand and receive bills of lading subject to the provisions of this Act; or (b) when issuing such bills of lading, either in the surrender of any of the carrier's rights and immunities or in the increase of any of the carrier's responsibilities and liabilities pursuant to section 5, title I, of this Act; or (c) in any other way prohibited by the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.

SEC. 10. Section 25 of the Interstate Commerce Act is hereby amended by adding the following proviso at the end of paragraph 4 thereof: "Provided, however, That insofar as any bill of lading authorized hereunder relates to the carriage of goods by sea, such bill of lading shall be subject to the provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act."

SEC. 11. Where under the customs of any trade the weight of any bulk cargo inserted in the bill of lading is a weight ascertained or accepted by a third party other than the carrier or the shipper, and the fact that the weight is so ascertained or accepted is stated in the bill of lading, then, notwithstanding anything in this Act, the bill of lading shall not be deemed to be prima facie evidence against the carrier of the receipt of goods of the weight so inserted in the bill of lading, and the accuracy thereof at the time of shipment shall not be deemed to have been guaranteed by the shipper.

SEC. 12. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as superseding any part of the Act entitled "An Act relating to navigation of vessels, bills of lading, and to certain obligations, duties, and rights in connection with the carriage of property", approved February 13, 1893, or of any other law which would be applicable in the absence of this Act, insofar as they relate to the duties, responsibilities, and liabilities of the ship or carrier prior to the time when the goods are loaded on or after the time they are discharged from the ship.

SEC. 13. This Act shall apply to all contracts for carriage of goods by sea to or from ports of the United States in foreign trade. As used in this Act the term "United States" includes its districts, territories, and possessions: Provided, however, That the Philippine Legislature may by law exclude its application to transportation to or from ports of the Philippine Islands. The term "foreign trade" means the transportation of goods between the ports of the United States and ports of foreign countries. Nothing in this Act shall be held to apply to contracts for carriage of goods by sea between any port of the United States or its possessions, and any other port of the United States or its possessions: Provided, however, That any bill of lading or similar document of title which is evidence of a contract for the carriage of goods by sea between such ports, containing an express statement that it shall be subject to the provisions of this Act, shall be subjected hereto as fully as if subject hereto by the express provisions of this Act: Provided further, That every bill of lading or similar document of title which is evidence of a contract for the carriage of goods by sea from ports of the United States, in foreign trade, shall contain a statement that it shall have effect subject to the provisions of this Act.

SEC. 14. Upon the certification of the Secretary of Commerce that the foreign commerce of the United States in its competition with that of foreign nations is prejudiced by the provisions, or any of them, of title I of this Act, or by the laws of any foreign country or countries relating to the carriage of goods by sea, the President of the United States may, from time to time, by proclamation, suspend any or all provisions of title I of this Act for such periods of time or indefinitely as may be designated in the proclamation. The President may at any time rescind such suspension of title I hereof, and any provisions thereof which may have been suspended shall thereby be reinstated and again apply to contracts thereafter made for the carriage of goods by sea. Any proclamation of suspension or rescission of any such suspension shall take effect on a date named therein, which date shall be not less than ten days from the issue of the proclamation.

Any contract for the carriage of goods by sea, subject to the provisions of this Act, effective during any period when title I hereof, or any part thereof, is suspended, shall be subject to all provisions of law now or hereafter applicable to that part of title I which may have thus been suspended.

SEC. 15. This Act shall take effect ninety days after the date of its approval; but nothing in this Act shall apply during a period not to exceed one year following its approval to any contract for the carriage of goods by sea, made before the date on which this Act is approved, nor to any bill of lading or similar document of title issued, whether before or after such date of approval in pursuance of any such contract as aforesaid.

SEC. 16. This Act may be cited as the "Carriage of Goods by Sea Act."

Approved, April 16, 1936.

[Enclosure 3]

[MEMORANDUM OF THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE]

Comparison of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States of America, Approved April 16, 1936, and the Bills of Lading Convention concluded at Brussels, August 25, 1924.

Memorandum showing a comparison between the Act and the Convention.

By the enacting clause of the Act Relating to the Carriage of Goods by Sea, approved April 16, 1936, every bill of lading or similar document of title which is evidence of a contract for the carriage of goods by sea to or from ports of the United States, in foreign trade, shall have effect subject to the provisions of the Act.

TITLE I

1. Section 3, subsection (2) of the Act does not contain the words "Subject to the provisions of Article 4" or their equivalent with which paragraph 2 of Article 3 of the Convention begins. The subsection, the words which are in the Convention but not in the act being placed in parentheses, is as follows:

"SEC. 3. . . .

"(2) ("Subject to the provisions of Article 4) The carrier shall properly and carefully load, handle, stow, carry, keep, care for, and discharge the goods carried."

2. Section 3, subsection (4) of the Act contains a proviso which is not in the Convention reserving the Act relating to bills of lading in interstate and foreign commerce, approved August 29, 1916 (Pomerene Act). The proviso is underlined<sup>1</sup> in the following quotation from the Act:

"SEC. 3. . . .

"(4) Such a bill of lading shall be prima facie evidence of the receipt by the carrier of the goods as therein described in accordance with paragraphs (3) (a), (b), and (c), of this section; Provided, That nothing in this Act shall be construed as repealing or limiting the application of any part of the Act, as amended, entitled 'An Act relating to bills of lading in interstate and foreign commerce', approved August 29, 1916 (U. S. C., title 49, secs. 81-124), commonly known as the 'Pomerene Bills of Lading Act.'"

[This proviso is primarily for the protection of subsequent holders of bills of lading. Prior to the enactment of the Pomerene Act a number of cases had arisen in the United States in which shippers had induced representatives of common carriers to sign bills of lading receipting for goods on the shipper's assurance that the goods would later be delivered to the carrier. The shippers would then dispose of the bills of lading through the usual discounting procedure. Subsequently these shippers for various reasons sometimes failed to deliver the goods to the carrier. The courts in the United States held that the fact that the goods never came into the custody of the carrier was a good defense to relieve it of liability to the holder of the bill of lading. The Pomerene Act changed this law so as to place the liability under such situations on the carrier.]<sup>2</sup>

3. Section 3, subsection (6) of the Act contains a new paragraph, appearing as the second paragraph of the subsection, which is not in the Convention, providing that notice of loss or damage may be endorsed on the receipt given for the goods. The new paragraph is underlined<sup>1</sup> in the following quotation from the Act:

"SEC. 3. . . .

"(6) Unless notice of loss or damage and the general nature of such loss or damage be given in writing to the carrier or his agent at the port of discharge before or at the time of the removal of the goods into the custody of the person entitled to delivery thereof under the contract of carriage, such removal shall be prima facie evidence of the delivery by the carrier of the goods as described in the bill of lading. If the loss or damage is not apparent, the notice must be given within three days of the delivery.

"Said notice of loss or damage may be endorsed upon the receipt for the goods given by the person taking delivery thereof."

4. The fourth paragraph of Section 3, subsection (6) of the Act contains a proviso which is not in the Convention to the effect that in all cases suit may be brought within one year. The proviso is underlined <sup>1</sup> in the following quotation from the Act:

"In any event the carrier and the ship shall be discharged from all liability in respect of loss or damage unless suit is brought within one year after delivery of the goods or the date when the goods should have been delivered: Provided, That if a notice of loss or damage, either apparent or concealed, is not given as provided for in this section, that fact shall not affect or prejudice the right of the shipper to bring suit within one year after the delivery of the goods or the date when the goods should have been delivered."

5. The condition "if it shows the particulars mentioned in paragraph 3 of Article 3" appearing near the end of paragraph 7 of Article 3 of the Convention is not in the Act. Section 3, subsection 7, of the Act, the language which is in the Convention but not in the Act being placed in parentheses, is as follows:

"SECTION 3. . . .

"7. After the goods are loaded the bill of lading to be issued by the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier to the shipper shall, if the shipper so demands, be a 'shipped' bill of lading; Provided that if the shipper shall have previously taken up any document of title to such goods, he shall surrender the same as against the issue of the 'shipped' bill of lading, but at the option of the carrier such document of title may be noted at the port of shipment by the carrier, master, or agent with the name or names of the ship or ships upon which the goods have been shipped and the date or dates of shipment, and when so noted, (if it shows the particulars mentioned in paragraph 3 of Article 3,) the same shall for the purpose of this section be deemed to constitute a 'shipped' bill of lading."

6. Section 4, subsection (2) (j) of the Act contains a proviso which is not in the Convention affirming the responsibility of the carrier for his own acts in strikes, lockouts, et cetera. The proviso is underlined <sup>1</sup> in the following quotation from the Act:

"SEC. 4. . . .

"(2) Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible for loss or damage arising or resulting from—

"(j) Strikes or lockouts or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, whether partial or general Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to relieve a carrier from responsibility for the carrier's own acts;"

<sup>1</sup> Italicized.

7. Section 4, Subsection 2 (q) of the Act differs from Article 4, paragraph 2 (q) of the Convention in that the word "and" is used at two places near the beginning of the paragraph in the Act where "or" is used in the Convention. Section 4, subsection (2) (q) of the Act is as follows:

"SEC. 4. . . .

"(2) Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible for loss or damage arising or resulting from—

"(q) Any other cause arising without the actual fault (or) and privity of the carrier (or) and without the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier, but the burden of proof shall be on the person claiming the benefit of this exception to show that neither the actual fault or privity of the carrier nor the fault or neglect of the agents or servants of the carrier contributed to the loss or damage."

8. Section 4, subsection (4) of the Act contains a proviso which is not in the Convention to the effect that deviation for the purpose of loading or unloading cargo or passengers is prima facie unreasonable. The proviso is underlined<sup>1</sup> in the following quotation from the Act:

"SEC. 4. . . .

"(4) Any deviation in saving or attempting to save life or property at sea, or any reasonable deviation shall not be deemed to be an infringement or breach of this Act or of the contract of carriage, and the carrier shall not be liable for any loss or damage resulting therefrom: Provided, however, That if the deviation is for the purpose of loading or unloading cargo or passengers it shall, prima facie, be regarded as unreasonable."

9. Section 4, subsection (5) of the Act contains phraseology in the first paragraph by which the reservation which the Senate made in giving its advice and consent to the ratification of the Convention substituting lawful money of the United States in place of "gold value" is adopted. In this subsection $500 is substituted for 100 pounds sterling pursuant to the privilege reserved by the Contracting States in the second paragraph of Article 9 of the Convention. The words "the transportation of" are used before "goods" near the beginning of the subsection, and the words "binding or" which appear in the Convention are omitted from the next sentence of this subsection. The language appearing in Section 4, subsection (5) of the Act, but not in Article 4, paragraph 5 of the Convention, is underlined<sup>1</sup> and the words "binding or" are placed in parentheses in the following quotation from the Act:

"SEC. 4. . . .

"(5) Neither the carrier nor the ship shall in any event be or become liable for any loss or damage to or in connection with the transportation of goods in an amount exceeding $500 per package lawful money of the United States, or in case of goods not shipped in packages, per customary freight unit, or the equivalent of that sum in other currency, unless the nature and value of such goods have been declared by the shipper before shipment and inserted in the bill of lading. This declaration, if embodied in the bill of lading, shall be prima facie evidence, but shall not be (binding or) conclusive on the carrier."

<sup>1</sup> Italicized.

10. Section 4, subsection (5) of the Act contains a sentence in the second paragraph which is not in the Convention to the effect that in no case shall the carrier be liable for more than the amount of damage actually sustained. The sentence is underlined<sup>1</sup> in the following quotation from the Act:

"SEC. 4. . . .

"By agreement between the carrier, master, or agent of the carrier, and the shipper another maximum amount than that mentioned in this paragraph may be fixed: Provided, That such maximum shall not be less than the figure above named. In no event shall the carrier be liable for more than the amount of damage actually sustained."

11. Section 4, subsection (5) last paragraph of the Act contains the phrases "the transportation of the" before "goods" and the words "and fraudulently" after "knowingly", which do not appear in the Convention. This paragraph of the Act, the expressions mentioned being underlined,<sup>1</sup> reads as follows:

"SEC. 4. . . .

"Neither the carrier nor the ship shall be responsible in any event for loss or damage to or in connection with the transportation of the goods if the nature or value thereof has been knowingly and fraudulently misstated by the shipper in the bill of lading."

12. In Section 8 of the Act reservations are made saving from the operation of the Act the provisions relating to the liability of the owners of seagoing vessels in certain Acts of the Congress of the United States,—namely the Shipping Act of 1916 and sections 4281 to 4289 inclusive of the Revised Statutes of the United States or any amendments thereof,—all of which this Government considers to be within the scope of the reservation in Article 8 of the Convention.

TITLE II

The provisions of Title II of the Act may be regarded as supplementary to the provisions of Title I, which, with the enacting clause taking the place of Article 10, correspond to the first ten articles of the Convention.

The provisions of sections 9, 11 and 12 in Title II of the Act are designed primarily to make clear that the provisions of Title I shall not be construed to affect certain features of American law and practice. Section 9 provides that a common carrier by water may not discriminate between competing shippers similarly placed in time and circumstance; section 11 provides that where under the customs of any trade the weight of any bulk cargo inserted in a bill of lading was ascertained or accepted by a third party other than the carrier or the shipper, and that fact is stated in the bill of lading, the bill of lading shall not be deemed to be prima facie evidence against the carrier as to the weight, and that the accuracy of the weight at the time of shipment shall not be deemed to have been guaranteed by the shipper; section 12 provides that nothing in the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act shall supersede any part of the Act of the United States entitled "An Act relating to navigation of vessels, bills of lading and to certain obligations, duties, and rights in connection with the carriage of property," approved February 13, 1893, (commonly known as "The Harter Act"), or of any other law which would be applicable in the absence of that Act, insofar as they relate to the duties, responsibilities and liabilities of the ship or carrier prior to the time when goods are loaded on or after the time they are discharged from the ship.

By section 10 an amendment is made to section 25 of the Interstate Commerce Act by adding at the end of paragraph 4 thereof a proviso to the effect that insofar as any bill of lading authorized under that paragraph relates to the carriage of goods by sea it shall be subject to the provisions of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act.

Section 13 provides in effect that the Act applies in respect of foreign trade of the United States, including the foreign trade of territories and possessions. This section also provides that the Act does not apply to contracts for the carriage of goods by sea between ports of the United States and between ports of the United States and its possessions, or between the latter, namely in coastwise trade, but the Section also provides for the recognition of express statements applying the provisions of the Act in shipments in such trade, when they are made in bills of lading.

By section 14 authority is conferred on the President to suspend on not less than ten days notice any or all of the provisions of Title I upon certification by the Secretary of Commerce that the foreign commerce of the United States in its competition with the commerce of foreign nations is prejudiced by the operation of any of the provisions of Title I of the Act or by the laws of any foreign country or countries relating to the carriage of goods by sea.

The foregoing differences from the Convention, made in the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act, are intended primarily (1) to clarify provisions in the Convention which may be of uncertain meaning thereby avoiding expensive litigation in the United States for purposes of interpretation and (2) to coordinate the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act with other legislation of the United States.

No. 221 EMBASSY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Paris, February 18, 1937.

EXCELLENCY:

Proposal for modification of decree.

I have received Your Excellency's note enclosing a copy of the decree of the French High Commissioner in Syria, No. 292/LR of December 20, 1934, which was destined to make precise the privileges granted in the exchange of notes between M. Poincaré and Ambassador Herrick, dated, respectively, November 2, 1923,<sup>1</sup> and December 18 of the same year,<sup>1</sup> for the American educational, religious and philanthropic institutions in Syria and the Lebanon. I note that you invite the comment of my Government.

This matter has been made the subject of considerable correspondence between the Embassy and the Ministry, and the Consulate General at Beirut and the High Commission, and my Government has always reserved the rights granted it by the Convention between the United States of America and France regarding the Mandate for Syria and the Lebanon, dated April 4, 1924, and more specifically mentioned in the exchange of notes above referred to, and therefore will consider Decree No. 292/LR of December 20, 1934, as an interpretation of the privileges granted, subject to two modifications:

First, the liberalization of the amounts to be imported free of duty by the American University of Beirut. The desire for this modification arises from the fact that scientific instruments, equipment for teaching, hospitals, etc., which must all be imported by the University, create a proportion of importation relative to the number of students far higher than similar importations which might be required by secondary institutions and other foundations. Therefore, the creation of a special category for institutions of university standing might be in the public interest in the Mandated areas, particularly since devaluation has lessened the import value of the present allowances.

Second, it is suggested that, in case the American educational, religious and philanthropic institutions appeal from a decision of the customs inspectors, either as to amounts or classifications, no payment be made until the appeal shall have been heard and decided by the highest customs authorities. The reason which motivates this request is that appeals under the present régime tie up philanthropic funds for considerable lengths of time until decisions are acted upon, after which claims may be entered for the return of the money, and there is a long tie-up of funds destined entirely for eleemosynary purposes, as well as unnecessary administrative delay and inconvenience to both parties.

Should Your Excellency be able to consent to the two above mentioned modifications of Decree 292/LR of December 20, 1934, my Government will be most happy to consider the decree so modified as a satisfactory interpretation of the rights granted it by treaty and interpreted in the exchange of notes, by which it receives most favored nation treatment in this respect.

I avail myself of this occasion to renew to Your Excellency the assurance of my highest consideration,

WILLIAM C. BULLITT

DIRECTION POLITIQUE

PARIS, le 18 Février 1937.

MONSIEUR L'AMBASSADEUR,

J'ai reçu votre note en date de ce jour par laquelle vous avez bien voulu exposer les observations de votre gouvernement sur le régime douanier appliqué aux établissements scolaires, religieux et philanthropiques américains, et suggérer certaines modifications que votre Gouvernement croit être nécessaires pour atténuer la difficulté d'interprétation des droits accordés par la Convention conclue entre les Etats-Unis d'Amérique et la France concernant le Mandat pour la Syrie et le Liban, en date du 4 avril 1924, et l'échange des notes du 2 Novembre 1923<sup>1</sup> et du 18 décembre de la même année.<sup>1</sup>

Mon gouvernement, dont l'action à ce sujet a été motivée par le désir d'interpréter l'esprit de ses engagements internationaux au mieux des intérêts des Etats du Levant sous mandat français, est heureux d'accepter les modifications que vous suggérez d'apporter à cette interprétation et prendra les mesures nécessaires en vue d'apporter aux textes en vigueur les modifications suivantes:

Le paragraphe d) de l'article 248 du code des douanes sera rectifié comme suit:

d) Articles et produits importés par les établissements d'enseignement général ou technique pour l'instruction de leurs élèves:

La valeur des marchandises admissibles annuellement en franchise ne peut dépasser 1500 P. L. S. par élève pour les établissements d'instruction primaire ou secondaire et 2500 P. L. S. par élève pour les établissements universitaires.

L'art. 251 du code des douanes sera complété comme suit:

"A titre général, les droits exigibles sur chaque importation privilégiée doivent être consignés dans les caisses de la douane. Toutefois, cette dernière peut accepter, au lieu et place de la consignation précitée, la garantie d'une banque préalablement agréée par le chef de contrôle de la douane intéressée, toutes les fois que le montant des droits liquidés excède mille livres syriennes, ou le dépôt d'un engagement de l'établissement bénéficiaire étranger, transmis par son consul."

Veuillez agréer, Monsieur l'Ambassadeur, les assurances de ma très haute considération.

ARRÊTE:

ARTICLE 1. L'arrêté No. 137/LR, du 15 juin 1935, dit "Code des Douanes" est modifié ou complété dans les conditions ci-après:

Article 248—paragraphe d—dernier alinéa.—A remplacer par le texte suivant:

La valeur des marchandises admissibles annuellement en franchise ne peut dépasser 1.500 P. L. S. par élève pour les établissements d'enseignement primaire ou secondaire, et 2.500 P. L. S. pour les établissements universitaires.

Article 251.—A compléter comme suit:

. . . , ou le dépôt d'un engagement de l'établissement bénéficiaire étranger, transmis par son consul.

Article 334.—Premier alinéa à remplacer par le texte suivant:

L'Administration des Douanes est dispensée des formalités de timbre pour tous les actes qu'elle peut être appelée à produire en justice ou à requérir, ainsi que du paiement de tous frais judiciaires occasionnés par les instances qu'elle peut avoir à engager ou à soutenir en justice. Elle est exonérée également de tous frais d'exécution sans que le privilège du Trésor puisse être opposé au plain exercice de ses droits.

Article 351.—Nouvelle rédaction:

Pour le recouvrement de tous droits, amendes, confiscations et restitutions, l'Administration des Douanes dispose d'un privilège général sur le patrimoine mobilier des redevables. Ce privilège s'exerce en toute circonstance, même en cas de faillite et par préférence à toutes créances, excepté celles pour la conservation de la chose, pour frais de justice exposés par les tiers, et les créances bénéficiant d'un privilège général sur les meubles.

La subrogation consentie par la Douane s'exerce toujours au profit du titulaire dans les mêmes conditions que l'exercerait l'Administration.

Dans tous les cas, le subrogé entre dans les droits, privilèges et hypothèques de l'Administration après paiement, à la caisse de la Douane, du montant de la créance. Le titre de subrogation est constitué, sans autre formalité, par la quittance délivrée par la Douane qui précise les conditions et limites de la subrogation.

Article 351 bis, new.—

The bondsman who pays to the Customs the amount guaranteed is subrogated in the rights, privileges and mortgages of the Administration.

Furthermore, the Customs may, without the consent of the debtor, cede or transfer to any third party, even to joint debtors and even when the right may be doubtful or the object of judicial action, any debt which is due to it by any right whatsoever, and may confer upon the grantee or beneficiary subrogation in its rights, privileges and mortgages against the debtor and his bondsman.

The subrogation granted by the Customs shall be exercised always for the benefit of the titular owner in the same conditions under which the Administration would exercise it.

In any case, the person subrogated enters into the rights, privileges and mortgages of the Administration after payment into the funds of the Customs of the amount of the obligation. The quality of subrogation is established, without further formality, by the receipt delivered by the Customs which defines the conditions and limits of the subrogation.

ARTICLE 2.—The Secretary General and the Inspector General of Customs are charged, each within his own province, with the execution of the present decree.

The fact that a parcel contains a letter, or a communication having the nature of a letter, may not, in any case, entail return of the parcel to the sender. The letter is, however, marked for collection of postage due from the addressee at the regular rate.

List of Prohibited Articles.

The two Administrations advise each other, by means of the List of Prohibited Articles published by the International Bureau of the Universal Postal Union, of all prohibited articles. However, they do not assume, on that account, any responsibility towards the customs or police authorities, or the sender.

A parcel cannot give rise to the right to an indemnity higher than the actual value of its contents, but it is permissible to insure it for only part of that value.

Limitation.

ARTICLE VIII.

Responsibility. Indemnity.

1. The Postal Administrations of the two contracting countries will not be responsible for the loss, abstraction or damage of an ordinary parcel.

Responsibility.

2. Except in the cases mentioned in the Article following, the Administrations are responsible for the loss of insured parcels mailed in one of the two contracting countries for delivery in the other and for the loss, abstraction of or damage to their contents, or a part thereof.

The sender, or other rightful claimant, is entitled to compensation corresponding to the actual amount of the loss, abstraction or damage. The amount of indemnity is calculated on the basis of the actual value (current price, or, in the absence of current price, the ordinary estimated value) at the place where and the time when the parcel was accepted for mailing, provided in any case that the indemnity may not be greater than the amount for which the parcel was insured, and on which the insurance fee has been collected or the maximum amount of 500 gold francs.

Indemnity.

3. No indemnity is paid for indirect damages or loss of profits resulting from the loss, rifling, damage, non-delivery, misdelivery or delay of an insured parcel dispatched in accordance with the conditions of the present agreement.

4. In the case where indemnity is payable for the loss of a parcel or for the destruction or abstraction of the whole of the contents thereof, the sender is entitled to return of the postal charges, if claimed. However, the insurance fees are not returned in any case.

Return of postage on loss of parcel.

5. In the absence of special agreement to the contrary between the countries involved, which agreement may be made by correspondence, no indemnity will be paid by either country for the loss of transit insured parcels, that is, parcels originating in a country not participating in this agreement and destined for one of the two contracting countries or parcels originating in one of the two contracting countries and destined for a country not participating in this agreement.

Loss of transit insured parcels.

6. When an insured parcel originating in one country and destined to be delivered in the other country is reforwarded from there to a third country or is returned to a third country, at the request of the sender or of the addressee, the party entitled to the indemnity in case of loss, rifling or damage occurring subsequent to the reforwarding or return of the parcel by the original country of destination, can lay claim, in such a case, only to the indemnity which

“2. Individuals who on or after the enactment date shall be sixty years of age or over and (a) either have completed thirty years of service or (b) have become totally and permanently disabled for regular employment for hire, but the annuity of such individuals shall be reduced one one-hundred-and-eightieth for each calendar month that they are under age sixty-five when the annuity begins to accrue.

“Such satisfactory proof of the permanent total disability and of the continuance of such disability until age sixty-five shall be made from time to time as may be prescribed by the Board. If the individual fails to comply with the requirements prescribed by the Board as to proof of the disability or the continuance of the disability until age sixty-five, his right to an annuity under subdivision 2 or subdivision 3 of this subsection by reason of such disability shall, except for good cause shown to the Board, cease, but without prejudice to his rights under subdivision 1 or 2 (a) of this subsection. If, prior to attaining age sixty-five, such an individual recovers and is no longer disabled for regular employment for hire, his annuity shall cease upon the last day of the month in which

Payment conditional upon reemployment.

"(b) An annuity shall be paid only if the applicant shall have relinquished such rights as he may have to return to the service of an employer and of the person by whom he was last employed; but this requirement shall not apply to the individuals mentioned in subdivision 2 (b) and subdivision 3 of subsection (a) prior to attaining age sixty-five.

Report thereof.

"COMPUTATION OF ANNUITIES

Computation of annuities.

"SEC. 3. (a) The annuity shall be computed by multiplying an individual's 'years of service' by the following percentages of his 'monthly compensation': 2 per centum of the first $50; 1½ per centum of the next $100; and 1 per centum of the next $150.

Determination of "years of service".

"(b) The 'years of service' of an individual shall be determined as follows:

"(1) In the case of an individual who was an employee on the enactment date, the years of service shall include all his service subsequent to December 31, 1936, and if the total number of such years is less than thirty, then the years of service shall also include his service prior to January 1, 1937, but not so as to make his total years of service exceed thirty: Provided, however, That with respect to any such individual who rendered service to any employer after January 1, 1937, and who on the enactment date was not an employee of an employer conducting the principal part of its business in the United States no greater proportion of his service rendered prior to January 1, 1937, shall be included in his 'years of service' than the proportion which his total compensation (including compensation in any month in excess of $300) for service after January 1, 1937, rendered anywhere to an employer conducting the principal part of its business in the United States or rendered in the United States to any other employer bears to his total compensation (including compensation in any month in excess of $300) for service rendered anywhere to an employer after January 1, 1937.

"(2) In all other cases, the years of service shall include only the service subsequent to December 31, 1936.

"(3) Where the years of service include only part of the service prior to January 1, 1937, the part included shall be taken in reverse order beginning with the last calendar month of such service.

Provided.
Where principal part of business was outside United States.

Where principal part of business was within.

“(4) In no case shall the years of service include any service rendered after June 30, 1937, by an individual who is sixty-five years of age or over, except for the purpose of computing his monthly compensation as provided in subsection (c) of this section.

“(c) The ‘monthly compensation’ shall be the average compensation earned by an employee in calendar months included in his ‘years of service’, except (1) that with respect to service prior to January 1, 1937, the monthly compensation shall be the average compensation earned by an employee in calendar months included in his years of service in the years 1924–1931, and (2) that where service in the period 1924–1931 is, in the judgment of the Board, insufficient to constitute a fair and equitable basis for determining the monthly compensation for service prior to January 1, 1937, the Board shall determine the monthly compensation for such service in such manner as in its judgment shall be just and equitable. If the employee earned compensation after June 30, 1937, and after the last day of the month in which he attained age sixty-five, such compensation shall be disregarded if the result of taking such compensation into account would be to diminish his annuity. In computing the monthly compensation, no part of any month’s compensation in excess of $300 shall be recognized.

“Monthly compensation,” computation of.

“(d) The annuity of an individual who shall have been an employee representative shall be determined in the same manner and with the same effect as if the employee organization by which he shall have been employed were an employer.

Annuity to employee representative.

“(e) If the individual was an employee when he attained age sixty-five and has completed twenty years of service, the minimum annuity payable to him shall be $40 per month: Provided, however, That if the monthly compensation on which his annuity is based is less than $50, his annuity shall be 80 per centum of such monthly compensation, except that if such 80 per centum is less than $20, the annuity shall be $20 or the same amount as the monthly compensation, whichever is less. In no case shall the value of the annuity be less than the value of the additional old-age benefit he would receive under title II of the Social Security Act if his service as an employee after December 31, 1936, were included in the term ‘employment’ as defined therein.

Employee attaining 65 and with 20 years of service.

Proviso.

“(f) Annuity payments due an individual but not yet paid at death shall be paid to a surviving spouse if such spouse is entitled to an annuity under an election made pursuant to the provisions of section 4; otherwise they shall be paid to the same individual or individuals who may be entitled to receive any death benefit that may be payable under the provisions of section 5.

Payments upon death.

“(g) No annuity shall accrue with respect to the calendar month in which an annuitant dies.

“(h) After an annuity has begun to accrue, it shall not be subject to recomputation on account of service rendered thereafter to an employer, except as provided in subdivision 3 of section 2 (a).

Recomputation on account of service rendered.

“(i) If an annuity is less than $2.50, it may, in the discretion of the Board, be paid quarterly or in a lump sum equal to its computed value as determined by the Board.

If annuity less than $2.50.

“JOINT AND SURVIVOR ANNUITY

“SEC. 4. An individual whose annuity shall not have begun to accrue may elect prior to January 1, 1938, or at least five years before the date on which his annuity begins to accrue, or upon furnishing proof of health satisfactory to the Board, to have the value of his annuity apply to the payment of a reduced annuity to him during life and an annuity after his death to his spouse during life equal to, or 75 per centum of, or 50 per centum of such reduced annuity. The amounts of the two annuities shall be such that their combined actuarial value as determined by the Board shall be the same as the actuarial value of the single-life annuity to which the individual would otherwise be entitled. Such election shall be irrevocable, except that it shall become inoperative if the individual or the spouse dies before the annuity begins to accrue or if the individual's marriage is dissolved or if the individual shall be granted an annuity under subdivision 3 of section 2 (a): Provided, however, That the individual may, if his marriage is dissolved before the date his annuity begins to accrue, or if his annuity under subdivision 3 of section 2 (a) ceases because of failure to make the required proof of disability, make a new election under the conditions stated in the first sentence of this subsection. The annuity of a spouse under this subsection shall begin to accrue on the first day of the calendar month in which the death of the individual occurs.

"DEATH BENEFITS

Death benefits.

"SEC. 5. The following benefits shall be paid with respect to the death of individuals who were employees after December 31, 1936:

"(a) If the deceased should not be survived by a widow or widower who is entitled to an annuity under an election made pursuant to the provisions of section 4, there shall be paid to such person or persons as the deceased may have designated by a writing filed with the Board prior to his death, or if there be no designation, to the legal representative of the deceased, the amount, if any, by which 4 per centum of the aggregate compensation earned by the deceased after December 31, 1936, exceeds the sum of the total of the annuity payments actually made to the deceased plus the total of the annuity payments due the deceased but not yet paid at death. If the person or persons designated to receive the death benefit do not survive the deceased, the death benefit shall be paid to the legal representative of the deceased.

"(b) If the deceased should be survived by a widow or widower entitled to an annuity under an election made pursuant to the provisions of section 4, there shall, on the death of the widow or widower, be paid to such person or persons as the deceased may have designated by a writing filed with the Board prior to his death, or if there be no designation, to the legal representative of the deceased, the amount, if any, by which 4 per centum of the aggregate compensation earned by the deceased after December 31, 1936, exceeds the sum of the total of the annuity payments actually made to the deceased plus the total of the annuity payments actually made to the widow or widower under an election made pursuant to the provisions of section 4 and under the provisions of section 3 (f), plus the total of the annuity payments due the widow or widower but not yet paid at death. If the person or persons designated to receive the death benefit do not survive the widow or widower, the death benefit shall be paid to the legal representative of the deceased.

"PENSIONS TO INDIVIDUALS ON PENSION OR GRATUITY ROLLS OF EMPLOYERS

"SEC. 6. (a) Beginning July 1, 1937, each individual then on the pension or gratuity roll of an employer by reason of his employment, who was on such roll on March 1, 1937, shall be paid on July 1, 1937, and on the 1st day of each calendar month thereafter during his life, a pension at the same rate as the pension or gratuity granted to him by the employer without diminution by reason of a general reduction or readjustment made subsequent to December 31, 1930, and applicable to pensioners of the employer: Provided, however, That no pension payable under this section shall exceed $120 monthly: And provided further, That no individual on the pension or gratuity roll of an employer not conducting the principal part of its business in the United States shall be paid a pension under this section unless, in the judgment of the Board, he was, on March 1, 1937, carried on the pension or gratuity roll as a United States pensioner.

*Proviso.
Limitation.
Where principal part of business is without United States.*

“(b) No individual covered by this section who was on July 1, 1937, eligible for an annuity under this Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, based in whole or in part on service rendered prior to January 1, 1937, shall receive a pension payment under this section subsequent to the payment due on October 1, 1937, or due on the 1st day of the month in which the application for an annuity of such individual has been awarded and certified by the Board, whichever of the two dates is earlier. The annuity claims of such individuals who receive pension payments under this section shall be adjudicated in the same manner and with the same effect as if no pension payments had been made: Provided, however, That no such individual shall be entitled to receive both a pension under this section and an annuity under this Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, and in the event pension payments have been made to any such individual in any month in which such individual is entitled to an annuity under this Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, the difference between the amounts paid as pensions and the amounts due as annuities shall be adjusted in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Board may deem just and reasonable.

“SEC. 7. Nothing in this Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935 shall be taken as restricting or discouraging payment by employers to retired employees of pensions or gratuities in addition to the annuities or pensions paid to such employees under such Acts, nor shall such Acts be taken as terminating any trust heretofore created for the payment of such pensions or gratuities.

“CONCLUSIVENESS OF RETURNS OF COMPENSATION AND OF FAILURE TO MAKE RETURNS OF COMPENSATION

“SEC. 8. Employers shall file with the Board, in such manner and form and at such times as the Board by rules and regulations may prescribe, returns under oath of monthly compensation of employees, and, if the Board shall so require, shall furnish employees with statements of their monthly compensation as reported to the Board. Any such return shall be conclusive as to the amount of compensation earned by an employee during each month covered by the return, and the fact that no return was made of the compensation claimed to be earned by an employee during a particular calendar month shall be taken as conclusive that no compensation was earned by such employee during that month, unless the error in the amount of compensation returned in the one case, or the failure to make return of the compensation in the other case, is called to the attention of the Board within four years after the last date on which return of the compensation was required to be made.

(a) If the Board finds that at any time more or less than the correct amount of any annuity or pension has theretofore been paid to any individual under this Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1935, then, under regulations made by the Board, proper adjustments shall be made in connection with subsequent payments under such Acts to the same individual.

"(b) There shall be no recovery of payments of annuities, death benefits, or pensions from any person who, in the judgment of the Board, is without fault and if, in the judgment of the Board, such recovery would be against equity and good conscience. tion of farms, etc.

TITLE I—FARM TENANT PROVISIONS

POWER OF SECRETARY

SECTION 1. (a) The Secretary of Agriculture (hereinafter referred to as the "Secretary") is authorized to make loans in the United States and in the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii and in Puerto Rico to persons eligible to receive the benefits of this title to enable such persons to acquire farms.

(b) Only farm tenants, farm laborers, sharecroppers, and other individuals who obtain, or who recently obtained, the major portion of their income from farming operations shall be eligible to receive the benefits of this title. In making available the benefits of this title, the Secretary shall give preference to persons who are married, or who have dependent families, or, wherever practicable, to persons who are able to make an initial down payment, or who are owners of livestock and farm implements necessary successfully to carry on farming operations. No person shall be eligible who is not a citizen of the United States.

(c) No loan shall be made for the acquisition of any farm unless it is of such size as the Secretary determines to be sufficient to constitute an efficient farm-management unit and to enable a diligent farm family to carry on successful farming of a type which the Secretary deems can be successfully carried on in the locality in which the farm is situated.

COUNTY COMMITTEES AND LOANS

SEC. 2. (a) The County Committee established under section 42 shall—

(1) Examine applications (filed with the county agent in the county, or with such other person as the Secretary may designate) of persons desiring to finance the acquisition of farms in the county by means of a loan from the Secretary under this title.

(2) Examine and appraise farms in the county with respect to which an application for a loan is made.

(b) If the committee finds that an applicant is eligible to receive the benefits of this title, that by reason of his character, ability, and experience he is likely successfully to carry out undertakings required of him under a loan which may be made under this title, and that the farm with respect to which the application is made is of such character that there is a reasonable likelihood that the making of a loan with respect thereto will carry out the purposes of this title, it shall so certify to the Secretary. The committee shall also certify to the Secretary the amount which the committee finds is the reasonable value of the farm.

(c) No certification under this section shall be made with respect to any farm in which any member of the committee or any person related to such member within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity has any property interest, direct or indirect, or in which they or either of them have had such interest within one year prior to the date of certification.

(d) No loan shall be made to any person or with respect to any farm unless certification as required under this section has been made with respect to such person and such farm by the committee.

TERMS OF LOANS

SEC. 3. (a) Loans made under this title shall be in such amount (not in excess of the amount certified by the County Committee to be the value of the farm) as may be necessary to enable the borrower to acquire the farm and for necessary repairs and improvements thereon, and shall be secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on the farm.

(b) The instruments under which the loan is made and security given therefor shall—

(1) Provide for the repayment of the loan within an agreed period of not more than forty years from the making of the loan.

(2) Provide for the payment of interest on the unpaid balance of the loan at the rate of 3 per centum per annum.

(3) Provide for the repayment of the unpaid balance of the loan, together with interest thereon, in installments in accordance with amortization schedules prescribed by the Secretary.
